A 69-year-old Fredericktown man was in "satisfactory" condition today at City Hospital with head injuries suffered Tuesday afternoon when his runaway car cut a wide swath of destruction along St. Clair Ave.

Cornelius Thomas suffered a severe laceration of the lip and contusions of the skull as his station wagon traveled 387 feet out of control. Along the way, it narrowly missed a child and struck a street sign standard and a utility pole.

The child narrowly missed by the car later was identified as Pam Beagle, 4, of 1028 St. Clair Ave.

Police said Thomas' car apparently went out of control at 1:33 as he attempted to turn from St. Clair Ave. into Youngs Alley.

The auto went onto the sidewalk, striking a mailbox and narrowly missing a child at play, officers said. The car continued downgrade on the sidewalk, striking a parked auto and a speed limit sign, then

Paris Talks Fail To Provide Hint Of Bombing Halt Move

Nixon Raps HHH About 'Loose Talk'

Accuses Opponent Of Switching His Position On Viet

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon accused Democratic opponent Hubert H. Humphrey of loose talk and position switching on Vietnam today and said Humphrey as president would create a "great risk of miscalculation on the part of our adversaries."

Humphrey, meanwhile, was being hailed as a political miracle worker for uniting at-odds Texas Democrats behind him. He heads for California late today to try to repeat the feat.

And third party candidate George C. Wallace—hit by an apple core thrown along with eggs and tomatoes Tuesday—said leaders of both major parties have "kowtowed to anarchists" and ignored average citizens.

Nixon said today the present Democratic administration has not been able to keep the peace, has not kept up military strength or American prestige "and now it cannot restore peace."

"To this dismal record," Nixon said in a statement in Saginaw, Mich., "my opponent brings the fastest, loosest tongue in the nation and the fastest switch of position ever seen in American politics.

"Mr. Humphrey has shown a constitutional inability," Nixon said, to treat the Vietnam war and the Paris negotiations discreetly or, for that matter, understandably, ever since this campaign began."

Humphrey has won a strong show of unity in Texas and now faces California where a sizeable number of Democrats were won to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's peace stand and are reported withholding support for Humphrey at the moment.

Texas Gov. John Connally and his longtime political adversary, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, stood side by side with Humphrey at stops in Texas, political differences seemingly put aside.

"We have never in 24 years had as united a party in Texas as we have now," Yarborough said in Fort Worth.

Wallace reacted good naturedly to heckling in Oshkosh, Wis., Tuesday, even when he was struck on the shoulder by an apple core.

"That's all right, it'll wash off," he said. "That's just a bunch of anarchists."

In Racine, Wis., the candidate's car was surrounded by shoving, howling students who managed to push it into another car ahead.

Wallace said both Nixon and Humphrey called student protest demonstrations a great movement when they started several years ago.

Firemen Push Hunt For Man In Span Leap

Chester district volunteer firemen resumed dragging the Ohio River today for the body of an unidentified man who presumably drowned Monday afternoon in a leap from the Chester Bridge.

The volunteers worked until near dark Tuesday without turning up a trace of the supposed victim.

A Congo couple told Chester police they saw an unidentified youth vault over the bridge rail Monday afternoon. But authorities said yesterday the victim may be a 40-year-old area resident.

Scattered Frost Due With Falling Mercury

It's fall, after all, the Ohio weatherman decided today.

He said scattered frost is due tonight in some sections of Northeast Ohio, as the mercury dips to a chilly 35-42.

The high today will be in the 50's. Thursday will be cloudy and warmer.

Astronauts Set To Relive Space Trip For Experts

ABOARD USS ESSEX (AP) — The Apollo 7 space trio—cleaned up, rested and well fed—come ashore today to relive for experts their 11-day, 4½ million-mile journey in space.

The three will fly from the USS Essex to Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., for a long series of debriefings.

From their answers and data gathered by the spacecraft, the space agency hopes to determine whether the next manned space shot can safely take men in a circle around the moon. The decision on whether the Apollo 8 flight will be another earth orbit or circumlunar is expected in November.

For Navy Capt. (Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian Walter Cunningham, the next few weeks will be a continuous round of medical examinations, debriefings and reports.

The Apollo 7 crew splashed down at 7:12 a. m. EDT Tuesday in the Atlantic southeast of Bermuda. Officials called the Apollo 7 flight "a perfect mission."

After the three men were brought aboard the Essex, Dr. William Carpentier, the recovery team chief physician, said a medical examination showed all three men "essentially normal—no problems."

Eisele had some residual infection, but otherwise there was no evidence of the colds that plagued all three astronauts during the flight and caused so much worry for their re-entry. The men came out of orbit without their helmets to permit them to hold their noses, blow and equalize the atmospheric pressure on their ears.

Headlines Taken From Jackie

West Europe Hails Apollo

LONDON (AP) — The Apollo 7 astronauts took Western Europe's headlines away from Jacqueline and Aristotle Onassis today as newspapers cheered the new American space triumph.

West Germany's Frankfurter Allgemeine looked forward to "colonies in space" and said: "The triumph is now complete. . .Now men will reach for the moon."

"Success for Apollo Flight Clears Way to Moon," said the headline in Stockholm's Dagens Nyheter.

Europeans were delighted by the humanity, humor and occasional irritability of the three American astronauts during their space marathon.

"It was nice to see the granite-jawed spacemen showing human quirks," said London's Daily Mail.

"Captain Walter Schirra got a bad cold, refused to appear on TV once, made bad jokes and shouted down to earth: 'We are not going to accept some crazy testing we never heard of before.'

"Let us hope that the first man on the moon will still have the guts to bawl out the boss."

"It was as if they were instinctively reacting against the domination of the machine which governs the course of every space mission," said the London Daily Telegraph.

Another Stockholm newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, commented: "There can be no doubt that both Washington and Moscow have fitted space flights into a military contest."

On the same theme, the Times of London noted that the last major piece of exploration on earth—in Antarctica—began as a competitive adventure but

Municipal Crisis Intensifies

New York's Board Eyes Court In Teacher Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A teachers' strike paralyzes the 1.1 million pupil public school system, police patrolmen continue a work slowdown and firemen start one today—but for most visitors there is little visible evidence of New York's intensifying municipal labor crisis.

The 900 schools, most of them locked with only custodians inside, are off the usual tourist paths, most police cars still patrol the streets and fire engines continue to respond to emergency calls with sirens wailing.

As the strike by the 55,000-member United Federation of Teachers cost another day of classes—the 19th of 30 in the fall term—the Board of Education made new moves aimed at ending the walkout.

The board announced Tuesday night it would seek an injunction against the administrator Rhody McCoy, and governing board of the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental school district in Brooklyn to prevent them from interfering with the reinstatement of 80 disputed white teachers.

At the same time the central board said Mayor John V. Lindsay would temporarily close

Vietnam War

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marine scouts sighted more than 400 North Vietnamese troops moving through jungled foothills southwest of Da Nang and called in artillery and air strikes that wiped out nearly half of the enemy force, military spokesman reported today.

The U.S. Command said that the Marine scouts sighted four columns of North Vietnamese totaling about 405 soldiers on the move during the 24 hours before noon Wednesday. Four artillery missions and air strikes killed 178 of the enemy troops, a spokesman said.

The enemy soldiers, wearing various uniforms and carrying various types of weapons including rockets and mortars, were spotted in one of the open valleys about 35 miles southwest of Da Nang and only five miles below the embattled Thuong Duc Special Forces camp.

During the same period, enemy gunners slammed 18 mortar rounds into the Thuong Duc district headquarters and a hamlet a mile away. A government spokesman said at least four civilians were killed and 13 others wounded.

The bombing campaign over North Vietnam also continued despite persistent reports that a halt might be ordered. American fighter-bombers flew through monsoon weather to pound supply lines below the 19th parallel.

Over South Vietnam, 18 American B52 Stratofortresses in three waves dropped 500 tons of explosives on enemy supply depots, bunker complexes and weapons positions about 55 miles southwest of Da Nang.

Four other waves of the eight-jet bombers dumped 750 toss of bombs on suspected enemy troop concentrations and bunkers only 16 miles west of Saigon.

U.S. sources said they saw no signs of enemy movement toward the capital, but if there was any the B52 strikes might help discourage it. The western approach to Saigon is the most direct invasion route from North Vietnamese base camps in Cambodia.

Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — American and North Vietnamese peace envoys traded charges today of aggression in Vietnam without providing any detectable sign that they might be nearing agreement on terms for halting the bombing of North Vietnam.

There had been speculation that Hanoi might reply in this 27th session of the conference to Washington overtures about ending the aerial attacks.

Ambassadors W. Averell Harriman and Xuan Thuy clashed in the 2½-hour meeting over who is entitled to speak for the South Vietnamese people.

Harriman reaffirmed American backing for the Saigon government of President Nguyen Van Thieu while Thuy once again demanded U.S. recognition of, and negotiations with, the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

There was no immediate information to indicate whether the two envoys used their 35-minute tea break for a private exchange on the status of current moves for a bombing halt.

Harriman startled reporters on emerging from the old Majestic Hotel conference headquarters when he said: "We have decided to meet again tomorrow."

For some months the sessions have been held at weekly intervals so that some newsmen assumed a break in the situation may have developed.

But as the chief American delegate talked, his spokesman, William J. Jorden, was seen to shake his head. And later Harriman himself and Thuy made clear it was a slip of the tongue. The next formal meeting will be on Wednesday Oct. 30, maintaining the usual pace.

It remained a possibility that Harriman's slip was an unconscious giveaway. He and Thuy are believed to have met in private several times outside the conference framework on terms of a possible compromise.

But spokesmen of the U.S. and Hanoi delegations here have consistently declined to comment on whether any pri-

Jerry Lyle, 16, of 728 Oak St., critically injured in a fatal one - car crash June 21 on the Freeway, testified Tuesday the car was going "about 90 miles per hour" when it left the highway and "headed for the hillside."

He was the final witness called by John B. McDonald, assistant prosecuting attorney, in the Common Pleas Court Trial at Lisbon for Robert Means, 18, of the Y. & O. Rd., charged with traffic manslaughter in the death of Ricky Jolly, 16, of East Liverpool RD 1. The case will go to the jury today.

Still wearing a body cast for fractures of both legs and pelvis, the Lyle boy testified from a wheeled cot and was attended by an ambulance crew from East Liverpool.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard charged the jury following closing arguments this morning.

Lyle testified that Means was driving the 1955 Belair sports coupe south on the Freeway and that the Jolly boy, a hitchhiker, said "something like slow down" just before the car left the road.

Lyle testified that Means had passed one car and was approaching two other southbound cars, one in each lane, when he "shifted down and applied the brakes." Lyle said his only recollection of the accident which occurred about 8:30 a.m. on a Friday was that he was thrown forward in the car and hit his head against something. He was unconscious until Monday.

Young Jolly, son of Delmar H. Jolly of Cannons Mills Rd. and Evelyn Pittman Jones of the Y. & O. Rd., received multiple injuries and died in City Hospital about four hours after the accident.

Trial

ly. Testimony brought out that the defendant purchased the car the afternoon before from John Lyle, Jerry's brother, for $150. Means put a new transmission in the car the day of purchase and he and Jerry spent all Thursday night riding around and working on the car.

Joseph W. C. Cooper of East Liverpool, defense counsel, rested his case at 4 p.m. after calling two witnesses — the defendant and James Walker, city fireman and owner of Lynn Ambulance Service, who removed Means from the demolished car.

Means testified that Lyle was driving the car at the time of the accident and that he (Means) was sitting in the middle of the front seat and Jolly on the right side.

Means said Lyle was driving "pretty fast" but that is all he can remember until waking up in the hospital. He and Lyle were on their way downtown to get something to eat. Jolly was on his way to summer school.

Means testified Lyle showed him a learner's permit and he let the younger boy drive although he had to handle the stick shift for him. "He kept stalling out," he explained.

The car careened 175 feet, flew over a culvert and flipped over on its top.

"In your experience in the ambulance business, did you ever see a car worse beat up?" McDonald asked Walker. The witness replied he had not and shook his head for emphasis.

He testified he found Means pinned in the car by the stick shift which had stuck in his leg. He used fire department tools to unfasten the metal stick from its housing and took means to the hospital with the lever still in his leg.

Cooper asked Means to stand and show the jury where the doctors removed the lever. The defendant indicated a spot on the outside of the upper part of his left thigh.

Walker testified he found Lyle lying on the berm ahead of the car, or toward East Liverpool. Walker said Jolly was in a sitting position on the ground outside the passenger's side door and was reaching into the car as if to help Means.

For rebuttal, McDonald had the defendants bring Lyle into the courtroom. Informed of Means' testimony, the young witness stated he was not driving the car at the time of the accident.

Junior High School 271—one of Ocean Hill's eight schools—if the union would call off its third strike of the term. The union has charged that teachers were harassed at JHS271.

Union President Albert Shanker said he would present the board statement to the UFT delegate assembly at a meeting today but declined to comment further.

John Doar, president of the central board, said the strikes had already cost the city $19 million in state aid and declared, "The time to end this dispute is now."

"High school seniors are being permanently handicapped in their efforts to enter the college of their choice," Doar continued. "They suffer academically, their chances for scholarship consideration declines, their very futures are being impaired. Students in all grades have lost momentum which will be increasingly difficult to regain."

The UFT struck Sept. 9, as the fall term opened, over the Ocean Hill board's refusal to reinstate the 80 teachers ousted last spring. A hearing examiner had later dismissed the local board's charges that the teachers tried to sabotage the decentralization experiment.

Officers termed the station wagon a total loss. The parked car, a 1964 sedan owned by Earl R. Joy of 1018 St. Clair Ave., was damaged on the right front fender, bumper and grill and right side.

Thomas underwent surgery at the hospital. Police said the crash still is under investigation.

Firemen were called to flush gasoline and glass from the wreck scene.

Meanwhile, a two-car accident at Dresden Ave. and Smith St. at 3:48 p.m. Tuesday also was investigated by police.

John A. Duffy, 18, of 822 Riverview St. was stopped on Dresden Ave. waiting to make a turn into Smith St. when a 1966 sedan operated by Louise N. Pitts, 56, of Longview Heights, pulled from Smith St. into the side of Duffy's 1963 convertible, police said.

Mrs. Pitts told police she stopped her auto on Smith St., saw the Duffy auto, but the sun was in her eyes and she did not realize it was stopped.

The convertible was damaged on the left side and door. The Pitts' auto received damage to the left front fender.

Potts Will Leave Post As Wellsville Officer

Patrolman Charles A. Potts of 18th St. Heights, a member on the Wellsville police force for three years, has submitted his resignation to Chief John Hephner, effective Oct. 31.

Potts did not disclose the reason for his action. He was employed by an East Liverpool trucking firm before joining the force.

Mayor William Daugherty said a Civil Service examination will be set up to establish an eligibility list for the vacancy. There is no list at present.

NATO's Two-Pronged Effort

The movement among North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) members toward a stronger alliance was an inevitable consequence of Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Even France, which had pulled out of the NATO military structure, admits Russia's strong-arming of the Czechs points up the danger of the Soviet Union represents the rest of the world.

Underscoring the necessity to present a strong and united front to the Soviet Union, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and foreign ministers of other NATO countries have decided to hold their semiannual meeting in November instead of December.

The meeting will take up the important business of increased defense spending by individual members to bring up manpower, equipment and training programs to NATO standards.

Agreements already reached will see an increase in West Germany's troop strength, Britain and Belgium will rescind plans to pull troops out of West Germany, Holland will dump a plan to cut defense spending and the U.S. will send back 35,000 troops withdrawn from West Germany in recent months.

The United States, in a move to ally fears of nonsupport, has stated in blunt language on several recent occasions its intention to honor its alliance with West Germany in the event of Soviet attack.

The strengthening of NATO will emphasize the will of the alliance and its member nation to resist aggression.

The intensified program of beefing up NATO and the drift toward reliance on military strength as a deterrent to Russia and other Warsaw Pact members would present a rather gloomy outlook except for one thing.

NATO members have pledged themselves to a two-pronged effort. They are upping their strength level but will continue to seek better relations with the Soviet bloc.

NATO countries would rather be friends than fight, but they are getting ready in case the Soviet bloc makes the wrong choice.

Autumn Leaves

"To rake or not to rake" is the question debated by the man of the house as the descent of leaves continues in the tri-state area.

For some men, pleasure is found in gathering the dry, crackling leaves in the tangy autumn air. For others, it is a task left to the wind, the wife or a reluctant offspring.

As one downtown armchair philosopher commented, "When it comes to leaves, I leave them alone."

The Beautiful Apollo 7 Shot

The United States space team has a lot of experience behind it, but everyone breathes a sigh of relief as each mission is completed safely. Space exploration still is a relatively unknown quantity.

The Apollo 7 crew has written another bright chapter in the historic race to the moon. Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Maj. Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham, as well as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) have earned plaudits for the successful trip.

It was a grueling 11 days for the trio. They withstood head colds, long confinement and the challenge of being ready for the unexpected, in hero fashion.

The almost-perfect flight unquestionably put the United States back on the beam in its lunar program that had been delayed by the deaths of three astronauts in a flash fire in an Apollo spacecraft Jan. 27, 1967.

Leaders of the space program are now evaluating the possibility of a flight around the moon in December. The decision will be made as information provided by the Apollo 7 shot is studied.

Sooner or later the moon fly-around and a lunar landing will be made. The Apollo 7 team can take pride in the fact their nearly flawless flight was an important steppingstone.

The Apollo 7 feat is a fitting tribute to the memory of the three men who died in training for the space shot: Lt. Col. Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom, Lt. Col. Edward H. White and Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

The Missile Crisis Revisited

The story of the 1962 Cuban missile crisis written by the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy explores the process that formulated U.S. policy during the time the world teetered on the edge of nuclear holocaust.

The article, published in the current issue of McCall's magazine under the title, "Thirteen Days," is an account the actions and reactions of men who held the fate of the world in their hands.

The struggle between President Kennedy's desire to exhaust every possible means of avoiding nuclear war and the urgings of those in favor of a quick military strike comes through loud and clear.

Preparations for invasion of Cuba, or a war with Russia, were being made at the same time a peaceful solution was diligently sought.

The article undoubtedly will spark wide discussion. The relevancy of those tense days six years ago to the present will be debated.

One message in the article that should be considered carefully by national leaders is the absolutely essential support of our allies during times of crisis.

Great Britain, France, the entire North Atlantic Treaty Organization membership and countries in the Organization of American States all supported the U.S. position in its blockade of Cuba.

The united front was a deterrent to reckless action on the part of the Soviet Union.

Today's credibility gap leaves some room for doubt as to how much confidence our free world allies have in the judgment of the U.S. government.

Lack of staunch support could write a different ending to the next grave crisis involving the United States.

Alternative To Bloodletting

Confusion over the status of Vietnam peace negotiations touched off last week by activity in key capitals still exists, but hope that something worthwhile is in the wind is buoyed by new developments.

A 36-hour cease-fire has been declared in a large area along the North Vietnamese coast for the release of 14 North Vietnamese seamen.

Release of the prisoners, captured more than two years ago, and the pullback of the battleship New Jersey indicates a slow move toward peace.

Officials also are looking on the continued lull in ground fighting as a hopeful sign.

THE FEELING GROWS that Hanoi is interested in reaching an agreement prior to the inauguration of a new president. If so, the slow pace of the current round of peace talks would have to be speeded up and negotiators would have to get down to brass tacks to arrive at a decision before next January.

All the peace offensive smoke in the air is a definite indication that diplomats are working hard to arrive at a negotiated settlement. Whether or not they will succeed is a matter of conjecture.

A diplomatic peace effort is a fragile thing and can be shattered a number of different ways.

Hanol has the difficult task of following a line that will not alienate either Red China or Russia.

The United States is trying to fabricate a peace that will be acceptable to dove and hawk factions while not impairing its international position, or put new worries in the mind of other allies.

Saigon government officials are striving to keep their political identities and chart a progressive course for their country.

Shaded into the picture of varying goals is the mistrust that exists between all parties and the self-interest factor.

THE FORMULA for peace is highly complicated.

An overriding desire for peace on the part of all adversaries would make the obstacles dissolve quickly, but that condition, unfortunately, does not exist.

Therefore, peace becomes a delicate mission.

Americans, along with much of the world, are praying that those involved in the peace effort are able to find their way through the maze of real and imaginary barriers.

Some comfort can be found in the fact that a visible attempt is beisg made to find an alternative to the bloodletting.

This 'n That

The first building in America to be erected specifically for hotel purposes was the 73-room City Hotel, which was opened in New York City in 1794. Until that time, inn-keepers converted their own or someone else's home into some sort of inn or hostelry.

VICTOR RIESEL

Anti-Poverty Fund Misuse

DETROIT — My good friend Milovan Djilas, the anti-Tito rebel, soon will discover that in these United States there is a new, new class. This is the poverty establishment. Not the poor. But the well-paid professionals who inherited them.

Victor Riesel

This is an entrenched class, responsible for the dispensing of billions of dollars — some of which is being stolen or misused in globs of $10,000 to half a million dollars to $900,000.

This is a sensitive class. It resents intrusion. It angers when told that some of the money has been used by killers, by karate instructors, by Maoists, by Castroites, by the street gentry who chant Ho Ho Ho, and by virulent anti-Semites using what the ghastly Joseph Goebbels called the "schreck krieg" (terror war).

And because of the new, new class's sensitivity, thousands of young poor are being deprived of education, job training, cultural rehabilitation and the decescies of life.

So vast — so unbelievable — is this misuse of funds, so intricately funneled through mazes of regional, sectional, municipal, neighborhood and street subsidiary corporations and agencies, that even the skillful U.S. watchdog General Accounting Office has had to ask for additional months to bring in its secret report on the Office of Economic Opportunity — paymaster.

OEO INSPECTORS and FBI agents are slushing through the same labyrinth.

Inquiries at OEO's Washington headquarters beget snarls and heat but little enlightening. National OEO spokesmen blame the mayors of the big cities for the criminal and anti-social mulcting of federal money. After it's funded, it seems to me, the OEO truly doesn't wish to hear of local looting.

Here in the auto city, for example, some months ago, the state legislature set up a committee to probe violations of anti-poverty fundings and ethical standards. The committee chairman sought national OEO assistance. In his own works, here's what Chairman James Del Rio reports:

"When this investigation was two months old, I called Sargent Shriver's office and spoke with his top aide, telling him irregularities did exist and asked him for an investigator to work with us in this investigation. I suppose after he discussed it with Sargent Shriver (now U.S. Ambassador to France — VR) he then returned my call and told me the Chicago office would be getting in touch with this committee. He waited several weeks and we talked with the Chicago office and its director several times. Not only did they not send investigators or request Washington to send investigators, they did not even send us a copy of the community action guide."

THIS HAS BEEN MY experience, too. Word from the national office, most surly of late, is that the money is being used responsibly and that such criticism and exposures will destroy the crusade for the poor.

Well, let's talk bluntly: is the use of federal funds for a storefront karate "school" responsible use of government money or aid to the poor living just a few hundred yards away?

There is such a school, probably more than one, in New York.

Is the use of anti-poverty money for headquarters in which hang large photos of Ho Chi Minh, Mao Tse-tung and Che Guevara, responsible use of the poor's money?

There are several such anti-poverty "offices." The money in one instance was to go for Project Method, to train impoverished Brooklyn youth to be useful cirizens.

There is definite evidence of this in the hands of the New York City Council.

Is the use of some $10,000 by Cleveland rifleman Fred Ahmed Evans responsible use of U.S. dollars? That money was part of a $1.6 million OEO grant to the Hough (Cleveland) Community Development Corporation, and was specifically programmed "to improve Negro youth culture." It was anti-poverty money which went to Ahmed who allegedly started the lethal shoot-out there.

REPORTS HAVE IT that he purchased a station wagon and went on an organizing trip to Akron, Pittsburgh and this auto alley.

There are many instances of misused funds — in the District of Columbia or New Haven, Chicago or Des Moines, and points east and west.

The gentry of the new, new class are sensitive. They disclaim any knowledge of depredation. They tell you to go to City Hall. And that once they find the money, the dollars are used locally.

Nonsense, which puts it politely. The OEO has seven regional offices. They have sub-district units. Presumably, they read the press — if they're not too busy and entranced by the "revolutionizing of the streets."

Those poverty billions are federal dollars and should be monitored. The poor are getting a bad shake. So are the many millions of citizens who want to ease the burdens of the poor—not the bureaucracy.

My friend Milovan Djilas should take a look at the new, new class. In the U.S., he won't be imprisoned for searing critiques. Not yet, anyway.

Letters To The Editor

If you were the only female and I the only male in East Liverpool, where could we go as young adults to enjoy ourselves?

Actually, to our amazement, we'll find out that we are not alone in the town: it merely seemed this way because during our initial walk through quiet streets, we took notice that all of the wine drinkers were not quite ripe yet! Perhaps now you give me that evil unhappy look which I interpret as "Let's get out of the main street."

As I escort you to the car, the siren from atop the fire station blows an alarming curfew blast. This just lets our parents know that the town's odd dozen bars just let out and that their children are now under police protection . . .which means very little.

We decide to watch the evening's moon cast its glow on the polluted Ohio River. As we find it difficult to find a place to park, I decide to drive you on the River Road in hopes that you might catch a glance of the reflection through the five foot weeds. Nevertheless, you do not care to look at the river anymore because the glowing lights of the West Virginia strip catch a glimmer of curiosity in your eyes.

You've undoubtedly heard wild stories about these places, therefore, you approach me to see if I can verify any specifics pertaining to the basics of teenage life, such as the drinking age, dancing, or even pottery tours would be a good enough excuse for your mother. But I, as a responsible youth, assure you that there is nothing too great about the happenings on the other side of the bridge.

Now, you suddenly realize that it is approaching midnight, and we cannot face your parents without some valid excuse as to why we did not attend the movies. For once, we agree to tell them exactly what happened.

Sure enough, as we enter the door, your folks give us the evil eye, in other words, speak or else. They begin the questioning by asking why we did not attend the movies. We tell them that the two functioning movie houses displayed signs which read, "adults only". I furthered the cause by adding that we were not allowed to go to the 'passion pits' or drive-ins.

After briefing them on the vast and plentiful activities of the evening, we proposed a solution to the problem at hand. We asked your parents to suggest the main topic to be encountered on our next date.

They became irritated by us repeating answers such as: There aren't any of those, we're not old enough to go there, that costs too much, it's too far away, and nobody cares.

The moral of this date should cause concern to the adults in East Liverpool. We, the young people care! We give a damn about where our children will go on date nights.

Do you?

The Paris Talks

All eyes are on the negotiators in Paris who seek an ending of the Vietnam War but the place to watch is Moscow. The danger is that the relatively small war going on now in Southeast Asia can be the prologue of even larger wars in the next few years both in Europe and Asia.

Arthur Goldberg, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said last Friday that, because of the Vietnam War, Americans have "too long taken their eyes away from the main ball game."

He stated that the Soviet Union's actions in Czechoslovakia "reflect the sanctions in the Kremlin — I look with great fear and foreboding at what these events may mean."

THE SO-CALLED CZECH-SOVIET "treaty" is a symbol of other developments which may be in the offing. The people of Czchoslovakia have been the victims of an outright seizure of power and a loss of their independence and sovereignty.

The free world looks on with abhorrence yet official indifference. The other Eastern European nations which also are under Soviet pressure are frightened and worried.

The western powers are trying to meet the issue by mere talk about reorganizing NATO and building a bigger military machine to protect Europe. Coincidentally also, the situation in the Middle East grows more precarious.

The Institute for Strategic Studies has released in London a study of "conflict and tension in the Mediterranean," and says the danger of a miscalculation in the Middle East is "considerable." The point made is that the growth of Soviet naval power in the Mediterranean will make it difficult for the United States to withdraw its forces from the area.

The general impression prevailing in Southeast Asia today is that, once the Vietnam War ends, the United States will never again become involved in any Asian commitments of its military forces.

Great Britain and France have already withdrawn from the region, so the Asian countries are left face to face with the possibility of a Communist "take-over" whenever it suits Peking or Moscow or both.

Trouble spots, therefore, are bound to increase rather than diminish, especially if the policy of the United States is decisively influenced by the "isolationist" sentiment which has been widely expressed in this country before and after the national political conventions.

No matter who is elected president of the United States, the question that will be asked throughout the world is whether America is preparing to turn its back on the small countries to whom up to now it has promised protection from aggression.

If this kind of policy emerges, the Soviet government and the Red Chinese regime will be the beneficiaries.

Each of the three presidential candidates has emphasized in one way or another his intention to settle the Vietnam War, bring the troops home and "let the other fellow" do the fighting hereafter against invasion.

The United Nations, of course, which should have been the active defender of the small nations, is paralyzed. The Soviet Union has not only a veto in the Security Council but a substantial influence in the General Assembly to block action.

HISTORY MAY REPEAT itself. The breakdown of the League of Nations made World War II possible and the impotence of the United Nations can encourage Communist Imperialsim to proceed in country after country to do what the world has just witnessed in Eastern Europe.

If "peace in Vietnam" turns out to be a Munich sort of peace, this could mean the start of a series of major acts of aggression which could make World War III inevitable and American participation unavoidable.

It isn't merely Vietnam but the future of world peace which will be affected by what happens at the Paris conference.

Investigation was started to determine if the speed limit on the Hill Road on Pennsylvania Ave. should be 35 or 50 miles an hour.

NATO's Two-Pronged Effort

The movement among North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) members toward a stronger alliance was an inevitable consequence of Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Even France, which had pulled out of the NATO military structure, admits Russia's strong-arming of the Czechs points up the danger of the Soviet Union represents the rest of the world.

Underscoring the necessity to present a strong and united front to the Soviet Union, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and foreign ministers of other NATO countries have decided to hold their semiannual meeting in November instead of December.

The meeting will take up the important business of increased defense spending by individual members to bring up manpower, equipment and training programs to NATO standards.

Agreements already reached will see an increase in West Germany's troop strength, Britain and Belgium will rescind plans to pull troops out of West Germany, Holland will dump a plan to cut defense spending and the U.S. will send back 35,000 troops withdrawn from West Germany in recent months.

The United States, in a move to ally fears of nonsupport, has stated in blunt language on several recent occasions its intention to honor its alliance with West Germany in the event of Soviet attack.

The strengthening of NATO will emphasize the will of the alliance and its member nation to resist aggression.

The intensified program of beefing up NATO and the drift toward reliance on military strength as a deterrent to Russia and other Warsaw Pact members would present a rather gloomy outlook except for one thing.

NATO members have pledged themselves to a two-pronged effort. They are upping their strength level but will continue to seek better relations with the Soviet bloc.

NATO countries would rather be friends than fight, but they are getting ready in case the Soviet bloc makes the wrong choice.

Autumn Leaves

"To rake or not to rake" is the question debated by the man of the house as the descent of leaves continues in the tri-state area.

For some men, pleasure is found in gathering the dry, crackling leaves in the tangy autumn air. For others, it is a task left to the wind, the wife or a reluctant offspring.

As one downtown armchair philosopher commented, "When it comes to leaves, I leave them alone."

The Beautiful Apollo 7 Shot

The United States space team has a lot of experience behind it, but everyone breathes a sigh of relief as each mission is completed safely. Space exploration still is a relatively unknown quantity.

The Apollo 7 crew has written another bright chapter in the historic race to the moon. Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Maj. Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham, as well as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) have earned plaudits for the successful trip.

It was a grueling 11 days for the trio. They withstood head colds, long confinement and the challenge of being ready for the unexpected, in hero fashion.

The almost-perfect flight unquestionably put the United States back on the beam in its lunar program that had been delayed by the deaths of three astronauts in a flash fire in an Apollo spacecraft Jan. 27, 1967.

Leaders of the space program are now evaluating the possibility of a flight around the moon in December. The decision will be made as information provided by the Apollo 7 shot is studied.

Sooner or later the moon fly-around and a lunar landing will be made. The Apollo 7 team can take pride in the fact their nearly flawless flight was an important steppingstone.

The Apollo 7 feat is a fitting tribute to the memory of the three men who died in training for the space shot: Lt. Col. Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom, Lt. Col. Edward H. White and Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

The Missile Crisis Revisited

The story of the 1962 Cuban missile crisis written by the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy explores the process that formulated U.S. policy during the time the world teetered on the edge of nuclear holocaust.

The article, published in the current issue of McCall's magazine under the title, "Thirteen Days," is an account the actions and reactions of men who held the fate of the world in their hands.

The struggle between President Kennedy's desire to exhaust every possible means of avoiding nuclear war and the urgings of those in favor of a quick military strike comes through loud and clear.

Preparations for invasion of Cuba, or a war with Russia, were being made at the same time a peaceful solution was diligently sought.

The article undoubtedly will spark wide discussion. The relevancy of those tense days six years ago to the present will be debated.

One message in the article that should be considered carefully by national leaders is the absolutely essential support of our allies during times of crisis.

Great Britain, France, the entire North Atlantic Treaty Organization membership and countries in the Organization of American States all supported the U.S. position in its blockade of Cuba.

The united front was a deterrent to reckless action on the part of the Soviet Union.

Today's credibility gap leaves some room for doubt as to how much confidence our free world allies have in the judgment of the U.S. government.

Lack of staunch support could write a different ending to the next grave crisis involving the United States.

Alternative To Bloodletting

Confusion over the status of Vietnam peace negotiations touched off last week by activity in key capitals still exists, but hope that something worthwhile is in the wind is buoyed by new developments.

A 36-hour cease-fire has been declared in a large area along the North Vietnamese coast for the release of 14 North Vietnamese seamen.

Release of the prisoners, captured more than two years ago, and the pullback of the battleship New Jersey indicates a slow move toward peace.

Officials also are looking on the continued lull in ground fighting as a hopeful sign.

THE FEELING GROWS that Hanoi is interested in reaching an agreement prior to the inauguration of a new president. If so, the slow pace of the current round of peace talks would have to be speeded up and negotiators would have to get down to brass tacks to arrive at a decision before next January.

All the peace offensive smoke in the air is a definite indication that diplomats are working hard to arrive at a negotiated settlement. Whether or not they will succeed is a matter of conjecture.

A diplomatic peace effort is a fragile thing and can be shattered a number of different ways.

Hanoi has the difficult task of following a line that will not alienate either Red China or Russia.

The United States is trying to fabricate a peace that will be acceptable to dove and hawk factions while not impairing its international position, or put new worries in the mind of other allies.

Saigon government officials are striving to keep their political identities and chart a progressive course for their country.

Shaded into the picture of varying goals is the mistrust that exists between all parties and the self-interest factor.

THE FORMULA for peace is highly complicated.

An overriding desire for peace on the part of all adversaries would make the obstacles dissolve quickly, but that condition, unfortunately, does not exist.

Therefore, peace becomes a delicate mission.

Americans, along with much of the world, are praying that those involved in the peace effort are able to find their way through the maze of real and imaginary barriers.

Some comfort can be found in the fact that a visible attempt is beisg made to find an alternative to the bloodletting.

This 'n That

The first building in America to be erected specifically for hotel purposes was the 73-room City Hotel, which was opened in New York City in 1794. Until that time, inn-keepers converted their own or someone else's home into some sort of inn or hostelry.

VICTOR RIESEL

Anti-Poverty Fund Misuse

DETROIT — My good friend Milovan Djilas, the anti-Tito rebel, soon will discover that in these United States there is a new, new class. This is the poverty establishment. Not the poor. But the well-paid professionals who inherited them.

Victor Riesel

This is an entrenched class, responsible for the dispensing of billions of dollars — some of which is being stolen or misused in globs of $10,000 to half a million dollars to $900,000.

This is a sensitive class. It resents intrusion. It angers when told that some of the money has been used by killers, by karate instructors, by Maoists, by Castroites, by the street gentry who chant Ho Ho Ho, and by virulent anti-Semites using what the ghastly Joseph Goebbels called the "schreck krieg" (terror war).

And because of the new, new class's sensitivity, thousands of young poor are being deprived of education, job training, cultural rehabilitation and the decescies of life.

So vast — so unbelievable — is this misuse of funds, so intricately funneled through mazes of regional, sectional, municipal, neighborhood and street subsidiary corporations and agencies, that even the skillful U.S. watchdog General Accounting Office has had to ask for additional months to bring in its secret report on the Office of Economic Opportunity — paymaster.

OEO INSPECTORS and FBI agents are slushing through the same labyrinth.

Inquiries at OEO's Washington headquarters beget snarls and heat but little enlightening. National OEO spokesmen blame the mayors of the big cities for the criminal and anti-social mulcting of federal money. After it's funded, it seems to me, the OEO truly doesn't wish to hear of local looting.

Here in the auto city, for example, some months ago, the state legislature set up a committee to probe violations of anti-poverty fundings and ethical standards. The committee chairman sought national OEO assistance. In his own works, here's what Chairman James Del Rio reports:

"When this investigation was two months old, I called Sargent Shriver's office and spoke with his top aide, telling him irregularities did exist and asked him for an investigator to work with us in this investigation. I suppose after he discussed it with Sargent Shriver (now U.S. Ambassador to France — VR) he then returned my call and told me the Chicago office would be getting in touch with this committee. He waited several weeks and we talked with the Chicago office and its director several times. Not only did they not send investigators or request Washington to send investigators, they did not even send us a copy of the community action guide."

THIS HAS BEEN MY experience, too. Word from the national office, most surly of late, is that the money is being used responsibly and that such criticism and exposures will destroy the crusade for the poor.

Well, let's talk bluntly: is the use of federal funds for a storefront karate "school" responsible use of government money or aid to the poor living just a few hundred yards away?

There is such a school, probably more than one, in New York.

Is the use of anti-poverty money for headquarters in which hang large photos of Ho Chi Minh, Mao Tse-tung and Che Guevara, responsible use of the poor's money?

There are several such anti-poverty "offices." The money in one instance was to go for Project Method, to train impoverished Brooklyn youth to be useful cirizens.

There is definite evidence of this in the hands of the New York City Council.

Is the use of some $10,000 by Cleveland rifleman Fred Ahmed Evans responsible use of U.S. dollars? That money was part of a $1.6 million OEO grant to the Hough (Cleveland) Community Development Corporation, and was specifically programmed "to improve Negro youth culture." It was anti-poverty money which went to Ahmed who allegedly started the lethal shoot-out there.

REPORTS HAVE IT that he purchased a station wagon and went on an organizing trip to Akron, Pittsburgh and this auto alley.

There are many instances of misused funds — in the District of Columbia or New Haven, Chicago or Des Moines, and points east and west.

The gentry of the new, new class are sensitive. They disclaim any knowledge of depredation. They tell you to go to City Hall. And that once they find the money, the dollars are used locally.

Nonsense, which puts it politely. The OEO has seven regional offices. They have sub-district units. Presumably, they read the press — if they're not too busy and entranced by the "revolutionizing of the streets."

Those poverty billions are federal dollars and should be monitored. The poor are getting a bad shake. So are the many millions of citizens who want to ease the burdens of the poor—not the bureaucracy.

My friend Milovan Djilas should take a look at the new, new class. In the U.S., he won't be imprisoned for searing critiques. Not yet, anyway.

Letters To The Editor

If you were the only female and I the only male in East Liverpool, where could we go as young adults to enjoy ourselves?

Actually, to our amazement, we'll find out that we are not alone in the town: it merely seemed this way because during our initial walk through quiet streets, we took notice that all of the wine drinkers were not quite ripe yet! Perhaps now you give me that evil unhappy look which I interpret as "Let's get out of the main street."

As I escort you to the car, the siren from atop the fire station blows an alarming curfew blast. This just lets our parents know that the town's odd dozen bars just let out and that their children are now under police protection . . .which means very little.

We decide to watch the evening's moon cast its glow on the polluted Ohio River. As we find it difficult to find a place to park, I decide to drive you on the River Road in hopes that you might catch a glance of the reflection through the five foot weeds. Boni, cited by Patrolman Dwight Garvey, told the court he was leaving the east end of the Freeway when another driver, apparently not realizing the road narrowed, pulled around his car. Boni said he applied his brakes suddenly to miss the other car and his auto swerved to the right.

Keep Labels On Clothing

DEAR HELOISE: Some time ago someone wrote to you about cutting a manufacturer's label from clothing. You mentioned that the label could be sewn elsewhere in the garement if it described the material and how to launder it.

Heloise

Having once owned and operated a ladies' ready-to-wear store, I can give you some other reasons why the manufacturer's tags should be left in clothes women buy:

1. They will know what size they wear. You'd be surprised at the people who don't know their own size, especially underwear where the size is most important.

Some women buy a garment they like real well — say it fit well, held up good, they enjoyed it — and would like to have another like it. But have forgotten the name because they cut the label out when it was first bought as it got in the way.

2. Husbands and children can look in her clothes and get the correct size to surprise her with a gift and avoid her having to take it back and exchange. This often results in disappointment as her size might be gone by the time of exchange.

3. They'll be familiar with certain brand names so they can be asked for by that name. This saves not only the shopper but the sales person much time.

BUSY BEE.

DEAR HELOISE: Before I start to iron I set up my machine with white thread (which is usually what's needed) right near my iron.

Then, as I run across a tear, I can just sit down at my machine and the job is done quickly.

This prevents putting off the job until "later" or forgetting it until I run across it again next washday.

MRS. R. L. OATES.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Have I got my kids fooled!

I buy candy bars in the wrappers, take my knife and cut them in half right across the middle. Then push each end down into the wrapper and fold the open ends over again and taped 'em!

Now when they ask for a bar of candy, they eat only half as much.

CLEVER MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: I received two beautiful blouses as gifts, but since I have a "little" of the middle-age spread, I like overblouses and just can't wear the others at all.

My sister came up with a wonderful idea — just make a nice two-inch hem on the bottom and they're perfect overblouses.

MRS. J.C.D.

DEAR HELOISE: When you use a buffer, is it true you're supposed to buff the entire floor BEFORE applying the wax?

WONDERING.

Yes, honey pie, it is. This prevents the gumminess and streaks.

Go both ways with it — up and down and crosswise — before AND after applying the wax. This will further take out the gumminess.

And did you know that the more you buff a paste-waxed floor, the LESS danger there is in slipping? I learned that from one of the biggest wax companies!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever tried using the flexible METAL from discarded furnace filters instead of chicken wire in arranging flowers or wreaths?

It shapes much more easily than chicken wire into any form desired, and what's more, it's free!

M.N.W.

Dolly, that's really a hot idea!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Whenever a recipe calls for chopped pickles, I use pickle relish — just scoop it out with a fork so I don't get too much of the juice.

An East End man was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Tuesday in Municipal Court on charges of sodomy and rape.

A Lisbon area woman, formerly of East Liverpool, filed the charges against Landy, claiming the offenses occurred Aug. 9. The case was originally scheduled to be heard Oct. 14, but was continued to permit the defendant to obtain counsel.

He appeared before Judge Chertoff Thursday and reported he had been unable to retain an attorney, so the case was continued until yesterday, and Atty. William Telzrow of Wellsville was appointed defense counsel.

Midland Legionnaires Set Halloween Parade

Midland American Legion Post 481 today announced plans for the annual childrtn's Halloween parade Oct. 31.

Steve Crano, post commander and parade chairman, said the parade will form at the 1st St. playground at 6 p. m. The children will proceed along Midland Ave. to the USW-CIO Hall where the participants will be judged by Mrs. Mary Belaney, auxiliary president, and her panel.

Prizes will be awarded for the funniest, prettiest, most patriotic and the most original costumes. Five cash prizes will be given in each division.

The color guards of Posts 481 and 533 will lead the parade, followed by the Lincoln High School Band and the children. The Sons of the Legion unit of Post 481 will head the second unit, followed by the Western Beaver High School Band. Midland police will provide the escort.

Crano said children may obtain identification numbers along the parade route or at the CIO Hall from legion members.

No movies will be shown this year to give the children more time to visit homes for treats. Legion members will distribute treats to those in the parade.

Officials at Midland, Midland Heights, Ohioville and Industry have set Oct. 31 as "trick or treat" night for children.

The hours in Midland and Ohioville are from 7 to 10 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. in Industry.

Albert Monac, Midland Heights fire chief, said the fire truck will lead a parade around the project beginning at 5 p.m. Children will be permitted to visit homes until 8 p. m.

Firemen and extra police will be on duty to assist the youngsters crossing streets and to guard against vandalism. If the children must travel along a highway, officials suggested they carry flashlights.

Authorities warned officers have been instructed to curb vandalism. Any youths caught causing damage will be held and their parents will be responsible for the costs, police said.

Court Dismisses License Charge

An affidavit accusing a man of "unlawfully selling nursery stock without a nursery inspection certificate" was dismissed this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff.

Frank Bosco, operator of Riverview Nursery and Garden Center on Anderson Blvd., was charged by Richard Barth of Reynoldsburg, an agent of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, after Barth allegedly purchased an evergreen at the business place Saturday. Barth told the court the evergreen was purchased for $3.95.

Judge Chertoff dismissed the charge because the evergreen had been purchased from someone on the premises, but not from Bosco. The cost of a nursery inspection license is $30 plus 50 cents per acre, Barth said. Barth told the court the Riverview Nursery license expired Sept. 30, 1967.

Salem Paving Slated

LISBON — City Asphalt & Paving Co. of Youngstown will begin blacktopping S. Ellsworth Ave., Salem, on Thursday, according to County Engineer John Ursu. S. Ellsworth is the extension of County Rd. 410 (Depot Rd.). It will be resurfaced from Mill St. south to the city limits.

The DOCTOR Says

Protect Preschoolers At Halloween

Dr. Brandstadt

Halloween is for youngsters. Much has been done to make it safer and saner. The unbridled vandalism of the "good old days" has been replaced by a parade of trick - or - treaters in fancy costumes and for many teen-agers by well - organized parties sponsored by churches, schools or civic organizations. Welcome as these changes are, all the hazards have not yet been removed.

—:—

NATIONAL SAFETY Council files contain records of dog bites, burns and other injuries incurred when young children are allowed to roam through strange neighborhoods without adequate supervision. That makes Halloween a time when all motorists should take added precautions when driving in residential areas. Preschool children should be allowed out only if they remain part of a group of older children or if a parent follows at a discreet distance. The area canvassed should be limited to the child's block so that no streets need to be crossed.

—:—

FLIMSY COSTUMES that can easily catch fire should be replaced by costumes of flameproof material or rendered fireproof by soaking in a solution of seven ounces of borax and three ounces of powdered boric acid in three quarts of water. A few patches of reflector tape should be sewn on all costumes. Keep the hemlines up and dispense with baggy sleeves. Painting the face with grease is safer than wearing a mask that may slip and hamper vision or impede a child's breathing. Provide your child with a flash light and forbid the use of matches or candles.

—:—

FINALLY, WHEN the children come to your door give them small donations of jelly beans, cookies or apples and, even more important, tell them what fine costumes they have contrived and how well they have made themselves into witches, goblins, etc. They will love it.

—:—

Q—In a recent column you discussed intelligence testing. Do you believe all children should be tested?

A—While I believe that intelligence testing can be very valuable when properly conducted for certain pupils with a teaming problem, I don't believe that their routine use on an entire student body means very much. A child whose emotional climate at home is happy and whose interest has been stimulated by trips to zoos, museums and libraries will always outshine an unhappy child who is lacking in motivation, no matter how high his innate intelligence.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Republican Richard M. Nixon will carry Ohio in the presidential race, according to a Cleveland Plain Dealer poll published today.

1 Injured As Blast, Fire Wreck Oil Still

HOOVEN, Ohio (AP) — An explosion and fire rocked a building at the Gulf Oil Corp. plant here Tuesday night, injuring a plant worker and rattling windows of nearby houses. But damage was light.

The blast and fire occurred as Donald Ogden, 59, of nearby Harrison, attempted to unplug a bleeder valve on a 100-foot-high crude oil still. He was listed in fair condition later at Cincinnati Christ Hospital with second and third degree burns over 25 per cent of his body.

Midland Legionnaires Set Halloween Parade

Midland American Legion Post 481 today announced plans for the annual childrtn's Halloween parade Oct. 31.

Steve Crano, post commander and parade chairman, said the parade will form at the 1st St. playground at 6 p. m. The children will proceed along Midland Ave. to the USW-CIO Hall where the participants will be judged by Mrs. Mary Belaney, auxiliary president, and her panel.

Prizes will be awarded for the funniest, prettiest, most patriotic and the most original costumes. Five cash prizes will be given in each division.

The color guards of Posts 481 and 533 will lead the parade, followed by the Lincoln High School Band and the children. The Sons of the Legion unit of Post 481 will head the second unit, followed by the Western Beaver High School Band. Midland police will provide the escort.

Crano said children may obtain identification numbers along the parade route or at the CIO Hall from legion members.

No movies will be shown this year to give the children more time to visit homes for treats. Legion members will distribute treats to those in the parade.

Officials at Midland, Midland Heights, Ohioville and Industry have set Oct. 31 as "trick or treat" night for children.

The hours in Midland and Ohioville are from 7 to 10 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. in Industry.

Albert Monac, Midland Heights fire chief, said the fire truck will lead a parade around the project beginning at 5 p.m. Children will be permitted to visit homes until 8 p. m.

Firemen and extra police will be on duty to assist the youngsters crossing streets and to guard against vandalism. If the children must travel along a highway, officials suggested they carry flashlights.

Authorities warned officers have been instructed to curb vandalism. Any youths caught causing damage will be held and their parents will be responsible for the costs, police said.

Court Dismisses License Charge

An affidavit accusing a man of "unlawfully selling nursery stock without a nursery inspection certificate" was dismissed this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff.

Frank Bosco, operator of Riverview Nursery and Garden Center on Anderson Blvd., was charged by Richard Barth of Reynoldsburg, an agent of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, after Barth allegedly purchased an evergreen at the business place Saturday. Barth told the court the evergreen was purchased for $3.95.

Judge Chertoff dismissed the charge because the evergreen had been purchased from someone on the premises, but not from Bosco. The cost of a nursery inspection license is $30 plus 50 cents per acre, Barth said. Barth told the court the Riverview Nursery license expired Sept. 30, 1967.

247-Mile Whistlestop

Nixon Gets Enthusiastic Reception In Ohio Swing

By The Associated Press

Enthusiastic Ohioans turned out in large numbers Tuesday for Richard M. Nixon's 247-mile whistlestop tour of the Buckeye State.

The Republican presidential nominee called it "one of the best days of campaigning I've ever had in my life. It was a Victory Special (the name his campaign chiefs dubbed the 15-car train) all the way."

Nixon appeared at nine rallies from Cincinnati to Toledo, with rear platform speeches at stops in smaller towns.

At every stop he assailed Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic opponent.

Meanwhile, Democratic leaders in Cleveland announced Tuesday that Humphrey is scheduled to speak in suburban Richmond Heights next Monday and that vice presidential candidate Edmund Muskie may campaign in Parma next Thursday.

Nixon accused Humphrey of ignoring the soaring crime rate and espousing programs that would put taxpayers in hock. At Marion, he told several thousand persons at a shopping center:

"The issue is clear, vote Humphrey for more taxes, vote Nixon to have more to spend yourself. It's Nixon with money in your pocket or Humphrey with his hand in your pocket."

A crowd estimated by police at 8,000 turned out to hear Nixon speak from the Statehouse steps in Columbus, where he added a "rock 'em" technique to his campaign.

Spotting Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes on the platform, Nixon said OSU plays "rock 'em, sock 'em football, and that's what we're going to play."

Nixon encountered little opposition during the day - long tour. He found a corps of hecklers in a Dayton crowd which packed the courthouse lawn and spilled into a street beyond.

Flyers were passed out in the Columbus crowd urging a Nixon-Humphrey debate, and a banner hung from the windows of State Democratic Headquarters offices in the building across the street declared: "Nixon afraid to debate Humphrey."

Objects were thrown at Nixon in Springfield and Lima, but both missed their marks. A piece of trash bounced off the train in Springfield, and in Lima an egg hit the platform and splattered on the suit of State Auditor Roger Cloud.

As Nixon left the state today after an overnight stay in Toledo, American Independent Party presidential candidate George C. Wallace headed for Youngstown to speak from the steps of Stambaugh Auditorium.

Wallace aides had scheduled a downtown motorcade prior to the noon address, but canceled those plans, asserting that Police Chief John Terlesky had failed to set up adequate security measures.

Terlesky said the Wallace visit was being given the same consideration by police as the earlier visits of Sen. Edmund Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, and Spiro T. Agnew, his Republican counterpart.

Meanwhile, the hot U.S. Senate race between Democrat John J. Gilligan and Republican William B. Saxbe continued today as the campaign entered its final two weeks.

Gilligan, addressing a Mount Union College audience in Alliance today, compared his congressional voting record on education to Saxbe's record in the Ohio General Assembly.

Gilligan said that as a congressman he "worked hard and voted for the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 which provided assistance to local schools."

He said Saxbe voted against a bill to extend the minimum wage to teachers.

Addressing the Ohio Retail Food Dealers' Association in Canton Tuesday night, Saxbe called for the formation of community action groups to fight crime. He said such groups could work with and help the police and courts. He said they could also work to discourage school dropouts.

247-Mile Whistlestop

Nixon Gets Enthusiastic Reception In Ohio Swing

By The Associated Press

Enthusiastic Ohioans turned out in large numbers Tuesday for Richard M. Nixon's 247-mile whistlestop tour of the Buckeye State.

The Republican presidential nominee called it "one of the best days of campaigning I've ever had in my life. It was a Victory Special (the name his campaign chiefs dubbed the 15-car train) all the way."

Nixon appeared at nine rallies from Cincinnati to Toledo, with rear platform speeches at stops in smaller towns.

At every stop he assailed Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic opponent.

Meanwhile, Democratic leaders in Cleveland announced Tuesday that Humphrey is scheduled to speak in suburban Richmond Heights next Monday and that vice presidential candidate Edmund Muskie may campaign in Parma next Thursday.

Nixon accused Humphrey of ignoring the soaring crime rate and espousing programs that would put taxpayers in hock. At Marion, he told several thousand persons at a shopping center:

"The issue is clear, vote Humphrey for more taxes, vote Nixon to have more to spend yourself. It's Nixon with money in your pocket or Humphrey with his hand in your pocket."

A crowd estimated by police at 8,000 turned out to hear Nixon speak from the Statehouse steps in Columbus, where he added a "rock 'em" technique to his campaign.

Spotting Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes on the platform, Nixon said OSU plays "rock 'em, sock 'em football, and that's what we're going to play."

Nixon encountered little opposition during the day - long tour. He found a corps of hecklers in a Dayton crowd which packed the courthouse lawn and spilled into a street beyond.

Flyers were passed out in the Columbus crowd urging a Nixon-Humphrey debate, and a banner hung from the windows of State Democratic Headquarters offices in the building across the street declared: "Nixon afraid to debate Humphrey."

Objects were thrown at Nixon in Springfield and Lima, but both missed their marks. A piece of trash bounced off the train in Springfield, and in Lima an egg hit the platform and splattered on the suit of State Auditor Roger Cloud.

As Nixon left the state today after an overnight stay in Toledo, American Independent Party presidential candidate George C. Wallace headed for Youngstown to speak from the steps of Stambaugh Auditorium.

Wallace aides had scheduled a downtown motorcade prior to the noon address, but canceled those plans, asserting that Police Chief John Terlesky had failed to set up adequate security measures.

Terlesky said the Wallace visit was being given the same consideration by police as the earlier visits of Sen. Edmund Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, and Spiro T. Agnew, his Republican counterpart.

Meanwhile, the hot U.S. Senate race between Democrat John J. Gilligan and Republican William B. Saxbe continued today as the campaign entered its final two weeks.

Gilligan, addressing a Mount Union College audience in Alliance today, compared his congressional voting record on education to Saxbe's record in the Ohio General Assembly.

Gilligan said that as a congressman he "worked hard and voted for the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 which provided assistance to local schools."

He said Saxbe voted against a bill to extend the minimum wage to teachers.

Addressing the Ohio Retail Food Dealers' Association in Canton Tuesday night, Saxbe called for the formation of community action groups to fight crime. He said such groups could work with and help the police and courts. He said they could also work to discourage school dropouts.

Extension Service Prepares Dairy, Machinery Programs

LISBON — The Columbiana County Cooperative Extension Service has announced a new dairy project for 4-H'ers and a farm machinery training program for 14-and 15-year-old farm hands.

"Replacement Heifer" is the title of a new project being made available to 4-H'ers interested in dairying.

Gordon McDonald, county 4-H agent, said the purpose of the project is to teach boys and girls how to raise a calf into a springer, and to provide a source of good replacement heifers for Northeastern Ohio dairy farms.

Youths selecting the project will begin with a fall calf or yearling and raise the heifer up to 30 months of age, when it will be consigned to a Northeast Ohio grader sale to be held each October.

The project will provide a fairly quick financial return for 4-H'ers in farm families which have excellent facilities for raising replacement cattle but are not equipped to handle a milking herd, McDonald said.

Application forms may be obtained at the extension office, 113 S. Market St., and are due by Dec. 1.

The extension department is planning a training program for boys (14 and 15) affected by the Department of Labor's Hazardous Occupations in Agriculture Act.

This act prohibits the youths from operating tractors and machinery but provides they can gain exemption by successfully completing a training program on farm machinery operation.

McDonald called the program to the attention of boys who depend on farm work away from home for summer jobs, and of farmers who will be using the young laborers.

Classes will be conducted over an eight - week period beginning later this fall. Boys who pass a written test and skill test on completing the course will receive a certificate to present to the employer.

Boys interested may obtain more information at the extension office.

In 1910, at the age of 71, Edward Weston hiked from Los Angeles to New York in 77 days. The distance was listed than at 3,483 miles.

PEOPLE HAD BOILS IN BIBLICAL TIMES

They are often mentioned in the Bible. A boil's redness, swelling, local "hotness," and great tenderness as a fluid-filled core develops, gives a picture of a typical infection. Boils are usually caused by a staphlococci variety of bacteria which remains confined to the area of their entry.

It is called a boil when on the skin's surface, an abscess when it involves deep tissues. A carbuncle is a cluster of boils and a felon is a special type of boil affecting the thick tissues of the pad of a fingertip. Never squeeze a boil or pimple. This spreads the infection. Diabetics, or patients with vascular disease, hardening of arteries or Buerger's disease require immediate medical attention.

Cuban Attack On U.S. Due In U.N. Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A Cuban attack on the United States and veiled Romanian criticism of the Soviet Union are expected in the U.N. General Assembly when the two Communist states deliver their policy statements.

Cuban Ambassador Ricardo Alarcon Quesada was expected to deliver today Cuba's usual blast against U.S. policy in Latin America and the presence of the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo.

But many diplomats feel the tone of the Cuban statement may be more moderate.

Western observers have noted signs of possible Cuban interest in limited relations with the United States. They believed this is motivated by dissatisfaction among members of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government with the results of excessive economic dependence on the Soviet Union.

Recently, Cuba has been beset by mounting economic troubles capped by a sharp drop in its sugar harvest, the Castro's regime's main export item.

There also have been signs of internal dissension over the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Romania was expected to skirt around the Czechoslovak issue with an oblique statement of disapproval.

Diplomats believed Romanian Deputy Foreign Minister Mircea Malitza would follow Yugoslavia's example and express approval of Secretary-General U Thant's claim that no nation should interfere in the internal affairs of another.

The Western powers have expressed concern that the Soviet action in Czechoslovakia might be followed by similar moves against Romania and Yugoslavia. Both countries have shown their independence of Moscow.

The average use of water per person in the United States is between 20 and 80 gallons a day.

Campus Police Arrest 120 In California U. Sit-In

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Campus police arrested 120 persons who staged a sit-in at the University of California's administration building Tuesday in an effort to obtain academic credit for an experimental course on racism in America.

Buses arriving from the Alameda County sheriff's office to transport those arrested to the Santa Rita detention center drew a crowd of about 3,000 outside the building. The California Highway Patrol and sheriff's deputies moved those persons off the campus.

The crowd chanted, "We are the people, we are the people!" as those arrested—mostly students—were taken from the campus police headquarters to buses.

Demonstrators in the crowd lit a bonfire and turned over a motorized cart owned by the university. A tear gas canister was thrown and a bank window was broken.

The sit-in on the 27,000-student campus started shortly after the course's third lecture, this one by Eldridge Cleaver, the Black Panther leader whose participation in the classes drew objections from the university's Board of Regents.

Future Plays Aired When Playrites Meet

Future plays were discussed when the Ceramic Playrites met Tuesday night in the Liberty Art Theater, Wellsville.

Scripts for several plays have been sent for, James Graham, president, said. They should be available within two weeks. It was announced that officers will be elected in January. A nominating committee will be named soon, Graham noted.

The cast of "The Odd Couple" will rehearse tonight at 7:30 in the theater, Nila Jo Bailey, director, said. Dick Frankel, director of "What's In a Name?" said the group will rehearse tonight at 7:30 in the former Woomer Building on St. Clair Ave. The Playrites will meet Tuesday at 7:30 in the theater.

The early Irish divided their year into four parts. New Year's Eve was Oct. 31, over Halloween, and May 1 divided the hot and cold seasons. The other two great feast days were Feb. 1 and Aug. 1.

Revenge Eyed By Johnson, Griffin Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader in the Senate fight against President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations says President Johnson has launched a vendetta against him because of his efforts in blocking Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice.

"When you stick your neck out and buck the Johnson administration, I guess you have to expect this sort of thing," said Sen. Robert P. Griffin Tuesday."

Griffin commented in a statement released by his office after the Post Office Department accused the Michigan Republican of misusing free mail privileges in his 1966 Senate campaign and said it would seek reimbursement of some $25,000.

Griffin, who was on a midwestern speaking trip, called the postal department's demand "political harassment" motivated by the senator's leadership of the successful fight to block Johnson's nomination of his old friend Fortas.

"I've advised my relatives and my staff to doublecheck their income tax returns and fasten their seatbelts," Griffin said.

Postmaster Gen. Marvin W. Watson said the problem is a matter for Griffin and his conscience. But he added that he had turned it over to the comptroller general for collection.

The issue centers around a newsletter that Griffin sent to constituents during his 1966 campaign for the Senate.

Griffin was appointed by Republican Gov. George Romney early in 1966 to fill out the term of Democrat Patrick McNamara, who died.

Griffin, running against former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, mailed out 500,000 copies of a newsletter which quoted Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman as saying:

". . . Slip, slide and duck any question of higher consumer prices if you absolutely can. Don't get caught in a debate between housewives and farmers. If you do, and to choose a side, take the farmers' side. It's the right side, and besides, housewives aren't nearly as well organized."

Griffin said the quotation was reprinted several times in the Congressional Record before his newsletter carried it. Therefore it qualified for the free—or franking—privileges allowed congressmen.

Griffin said this was the answer he gave Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien when questioned about it in 1967 and that he had heard nothing more about it since then until last Saturday when a postal department attorney contacted Cecil Holland, Griffin's administrative assistant, at home.

Under the law, congressmen have free mailing privileges for official business only.

Defense Fails In Efforts To Help Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defense efforts to suppress material seized in the home of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan failed Tuesday.

But Russell E. Parsons, attorney for the man accused of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, told newsmen afterwards that "sometimes when a judge rules against you it can be very helpful."

He said "our attention might now be directed to a more careful search and study why these things were said and done," adding that the notebooks and other materials found in Sirhan's room "may indicate something" about the 24-year-old Jordanian to psychiatrists.

Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker said he was not ruling on the admissibility of the evidence, but only on whether it should be suppressed. He said police had "reasonable authority" to enter the home without a search warrant because one of Sirhan's brothers gave consent.

Among items seized—and marked for identification Tuesday—were notebooks that included, according to Mayor Sam Yorty's comment shortly after the assassination, "a direct reference to the necessity to assassinate Sen. Kennedy before June 5, 1968."

Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Lynn D. Compton, who also held a news conference after the hearing, said he and co-prosecutors would use whatever documents seized at the Sirhan home they decided are helpful and relevant. Asked if a memo relating to the assassination fell into that category, Compton replied: "That would be a significant piece of evidence."

Kennedy was shot fatally just after proclaiming victory in California's June 4 Democratic presidential primary.

Sirhan's brother, Adel, 29, confirmed in Tuesday's hearing police testimony that he had approved the search: "I said something to the effect, 'It's okay with me'."

But a younger brother, Munir, 21, denied two policemen's testimony that he also had approved. He said police questioned him but that there was no conversation about searching the family house in suburban Pasadena.

Kent Student Held On Marijuana Charge

KENT, Ohio (AP) — A freshman from Cleveland Heights was arrested by Kent State University police Tuesday and charged with possession of marijuana.

Mark A. Leslie, 19, is being held in Portage County Jail in Ravenna in lieu of $10,000 bond. An envelope containing marijuana was found in his room in McDowell Hall on campus, police said.

Doctor Appeals To Ohio Court On Suspension

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—A Seneca County physician is appealing the suspension of his license by the Ohio State Medical Board.

In an appeal filed late Tuesday in Seneca County Common Pleas Court, Dr. Roger Dale Saylors, of Bloomville, said the board abused its discretion in suspending his license.

He also claimed the board's order "is not supported by reliable, probative or substantial evidence."

The board on Oct. 8 found the 43-year-old physician guilty of two counts of gross immorality and suspended indefinitely his license to practice.

Dr. Saylors, Bloomville's only physician, had been charged with four counts of immorality involving his relationships with female patients. His case was examined in a series of hearings before the board, beginning last February.

The doctor was found innocent of two charges, but the board was unanimous in its decision to suspend his license to practice surgery and medicine.

Barnard Hospitalized 'For Investigation'

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The man who performed the world's first heart transplant, Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard, was admitted to his own hospital today "for investigation", a Groote Schuur Hospital spokesman announced.

At this state, nothing further was known, except that his condition was not considered serious.

Barnard performed his pioneering heart-graft last Dec. 3 on a Cape Town grocer, Louis Washkansky, who died 18 days after the operation from double pneumonia.

Since then, Barnard has performed two other heart transplants—on retired dentist Philip Blaiberg Jan. 2, and on ex-miner and policeman Pieter Johannes Smith Sept. 7.

Blaiberg is at present the world's longest-surviving heart-graft patient.

Missing Girl Sought By Sheriff's Office

LISBON — The sheriff's department is looking for Jo Ann Sommers, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sommers of Perry Grange Rd., Salem RD 1.

The father told authorities the girl left home unnoticed Sunday through her bedroom window.

He said she is 5 feet tall, weighs 105 and has brown hair and hazel eyes. She was wearing blue bell - bottom slacks and a heavy blue shirt.

Lost Ohio Hunter, 42, Found Okay In Maine

PITTSTON FARM, Maine (AP)—Searchers located a lost Ohio deer hunter Tuesday after a search plane had spotted a signal fire about two miles west of Long Pond near the Canadian border in the northwest wilderness.

Harry Kearney, region game warden, said Ned Wylie, 42, of Cleveland, had kept himself warm throughout the night by a fire and appeared in good shape. He was guided out by the searchers and rejoined his hunting party.

Man Sentenced To Die In Ohio Electric Chair

CALDWELL, Ohio (AP) — Samuel C. Edgell, 21, Massillon, has been sentenced to die Feb. 10 in Ohio's electric chair for the March 24 murder of Matthew Zilka, 60, of Buffalo, Guernsey County.

Edgell, a soldier AWOL, from Ft. Dix, N.J., was convicted in Noble County Common Pleas Court of killing Zilka, who had given him a ride, and then dumping the body in an abandoned strip mine area.

Double Suicide Ruled

WARREN, Ohio a)P) — Portage County deputies found two bodies in an auto just north of Warren Tuesday and said it was a double suicide.

Dead on arrival at Trumbull Memorial Hospital were Ralph Solinger, 39, of Millersburg in Holmes County and Mrs. Edith Capp, 38, of Warren.

Deputies found a pipe leading from the auto's exhaust pipe into a window.

Meyer Gets Gold

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The showdown for the Olympic basketball title comes Friday, matching the United States' rag-tag collection and—steady now—Yugoslavia.

Giant-killer Yugoslavia edged out mighty Russia 63-62, and the U.S. team, by-passed by most of her best collegians and almost dumped by little Puerto Rico, easily turned back a strong Brazilian team 75-63 in the semifinals Tuesday night.

The Russia-Yugoslavia game was packed with drama, the U.S. swimmers scored another 1-2-3 sweep and a hint of commercialism crept into these 19th Games—but the day belonged to host Mexico and a skinny 17-year-old whose nickname translates "Lukewarm."

His real name is Felipe Munoz and his highly partisan countrymen figuratively raised the roof on the Olympic pool when he edged Russian world record holder Vladimir Kosinsky and won the men's 200-meter breaststroke in 2:28.7.

The Russian was second, a half-meter back and 16-year-old Brian Job, Cortland, Ohio, third.

It was Mexico's first gold medal of the Games and only the third in history for the country. The crowd went mad, shouting and screaming, strangers hugging one another and even the judges applauding.

Munoz caught the Russian at about 175 meters, then surged past him in the last 10 meters. Asked how he felt, he said: "I didn't realize it until I touched the end of the pool. Then my first impression was to jump up and down like everybody else was doing. I didn't believe it."

And about that nickname, El Tibio?

"My father comes from Aguas Calientes in northern Mexico, which means hot water," he explained. "My mother comes from a small village called Rio Frio, which means cold river. So when I was small people comprised and called me El Tibio."

Then he broke down and cried.

The Russians, silver medal winners in the last four Olympics, didn't cry—at least publicly, after their basketball loss to Yugoslavia, but Russian Coach Czerv Gomelsky, who had said he would hold a press conference, failed to turn up for the interview.

It was wild, lead-changing affair, with Yugoslavia going in front to stay when Petar Skansi, the game's high scorer with 16 points, dropped in a field goal with 1:15 to go, for a 61-59 lead.

Vladimir Kvetkovio had two free throws to make it 63-60 before Sergei Belove, Russia's high scorer with 14, hit on the last second of play.

The United States, which beat Yugoslavia 73-58 in an earlier tournament game, handled Brazil with ease and is heavily favored to bring home another gold.

The Americans have not lost a game since the sport was introduced into the Olympics in 1932. They have won 74 in a row.

The Americans, playing without the services of such collegiate standouts as Lew Alcindor, Elvin Hayes and Don May, followed Jo Jo White's lead to a 42-26 halftime edge and coasted in from there. The Americans forced nine turnovers in the first half in one of their sharpest showings.

Iba called off the dogs in the second half. White, playing only six minutes after intermission, led the American attack with 16 points. Bill Hosket of Ohio State and Spencer Haywood of Detroit each had 12.

"I don't believe there will be any problem getting the boys up when they are playing for the gold medal," Iba said.

The U.S. swimmers, though dominating the games, won only one of three gold medals Tuesday—Donna DeVerona, Golden Girl of the 1964 Games, had an explanation for that—and received two other jolts.

First, Catie Ball, a 17-year-old from Jacksonville, Fla., who holds the world records in the 100 and 200 meter breaststroke, withdrew from the 200 heats, suffering from influenza, and went home. Her training had been hampered by an attack of mononucleosis earlier in the year.

And second, Lesley Bush, Indiana U. coed, the defending champion in women's platform diving, flubbed her first dive and failed to qualify for Thursday's finals.

Czech Milena Duckova leads after four dives with 55.25 points, followed by Russian Nadezhda Lovanov, 55.24, and Ann Peterson, Bellevue, Wash., 54.06. Barbara Talmage, Walnut Creek, Calif., is sixth at 49.70.

Debbie Meyer, Sacramento, Calif., who already had one gold medal, led the American sweep of the women's 200-meter freestyle in 2:12.5, followed by Jane Barkman, Wayne, Pa., 2:11, an Jan Henne, Oakland, Calif., 2:11.2 It was the fifth America sweep in swimming.

But Roland Mattes, East German world record holder in the men's 100 meter backstroke, won his specialty, giving the United States only one gold for the day. He was timed in 58.7, easily winning over Charles Hickcox, Phoenix, Ariz., second, and Ronald Mills, Fort Worth, Tex., third.

Miss DeVerona had an explanation:

"I don't know how long it will take, but other countries are adopting our methods, copying our programs and dipping into the minds of our best coaches," she said. "They are not stealing our secrets—we are giving them away."

The United States, though winning only six medals, still maintained a big lead over giant Russia. The United States now has a total of 72 medals, 29 gold, and Russia has 42, including 14 gold.

The Russians got their only gold of the day from Evegemy Petrove in skeet shooting. He won in a shoot-off with Romano Garagnani of Italy and Konrad Wirnhier of West Germany.

All had 198 of 200 at the end of regular competition, but the Russian was 25 of 25 in the shoot-off with Garagnani second and Wirnhier third.

Gyozo Kulcsar of Hungary scored an upset in the day's only other gold medal event, beating Russian defending champion Grigory Kriss in the men's individual epee. Glanhuigi Saccro of Italy was third.

The United States has eight boxers still in competition—including four in the semifinals led by heavyweight George Foreman, Pleasanton, Calif., Russia has seven.

A hint of commercialism crept into the Games when it was learned that the U.S. Olympic Committee was investigating reports that some athletes had received money from athletic goods manufacturers, in violation of the Olympic code.

Officials and athletes would not comment. First reports said six Americans were under suspicion, but two later were exonerated. Two athletes from other countries also were reported under investigation. No names were divulged.

Warren Western Reserve proved to many people, if not the sportswriters who vote in the AP poll, that it is the top high school football team in the state by trouncing Niles 40-8 at Niles.

The sportswriters, many of whom probably were not aware of the Saturday night score when they voted, elected to retain Upper Arlington, Mentor and Massillon 1 - 2 - 3 and boost the Raiders only one notch to fourth. It's possible to see voting for Upper Arlington and Mentor, both unbeaten, but its hard to justify putting Massillon ahead of Warren WR. The Tigers topped Niles only 16-8, and have lost a game on the season. Possibly Massillon attracted attention by whipping Altoona, a perennial Pennsylvania power, 30-0, but the Mountain Lions, after thumping a good Williamsport team 35-0 in their opener, have fallen on hard times, and are only 2-5 on the season, certainly not among Pennsylvania's elite this year.

Western Reserve had only a 6-0 lead over Niles at halftime, but quickly broke the contest open, and led 26-0 before the Red Dragons got on the board. It was the worst Niles loss since Youngstown South posted a 45-0 win in 1956. The game was delayed 30 minutes by a power failure, and the Niles Times points out wryly it would have been better for the Dragons if the power had not been restored.

MIDLAND'S Joe Yukica has gotten off to a good start as head coach at Boston College. The Eagles are 3-1, losing last week to Tulane at New Orleans. This week Yukica has the unenviable task of trying to beat his alma mater, Penn State.

THE WEST VIRGINIA U. soccer team continues to roll along, with a 10-0 bombing of Ohio State Saturday. The Mountaineers are 5-0-1 on the season.

Zbrzeznj Not Enough

Princeton Picked To End Penn Unbeaten Streak

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a pretty safe bet that somebody in the Ivy League will find a way to bounce Bernie Zbrzeznj before anybody figures out a way to pronounce him.

Zbrzeznj, a talented quarterback whose tongue-twisting surname has become the keynote of a Pennsylvania football revival, will be at the trigger Saturday when the unbeaten Quakers take on Princeton.

The guess here is that the tough Tigers will beat Bernie to the draw and snip Penn's victory string at four.

The pickings were on the lean side last week, this corner compiling a 40-14-3 mark. On the season, the tally is 213-72-11. With ties counted against us, that figures to a .720 pace.

This weekend's picks:

Princeton over Penn: Zbrzeznj, who hit on 11 of 15 passes in last week's 34-0 victory over Lehigh, has a sore pitching hand. And the Quakers haven't beaten Princeton in eight years . . . and rarely have come close.

Penn State over Boston College: Beantown won't be the same after State turns tight end Ted Kwalick loose on the Eagles.

Northwestern over Wisconsin: The Wildcats have been pointing for this one since they first looked at their schedule . . . and found Miami, Southern Cal, Purdue, Notre Dame and Ohio State ahead of Wisconsin.

Michigan over Minnesota: After an opening loss to California, the Wolverines have been coming on like the Detroit Tigers.

Mississippi over Houston: The fast-stepping Cougars will discover it's no treat to beat your feet in the Mississippi mud.

West Virginia over Virginia Tech: But the Mountaineers will have to be sky high. The Gobblers are tougher birds than their 2-3 season record shows.

Oklahoma over Colorado: Both the Sooners' Bob Warmack and Colorado's Bob Anderson are dandy quarterbacks . . . but Warmack should get more help from his mates.

UCLA over Stanford: A slim edge for the home team in this battle of frustrated Pacific 8 contenders.

East—Air Force over Pittsburgh; Army over Duke; Colgate over Brown; Yale over Cornell; Harvard over Dartmouth; Rutgers over Columbia; Villanova over Xavier; Buffalo over Holy Cross.

South—Alabama over Clemson; Miami, Fla. over Auburn; Florida State over South Carolina ; Florida over Vanderbilt; Georgia Tech over Tulane; Georgia over Kentucky; Louisiana State over Texas Christian; North Carolina State over Maryland; Southern Mississippi over Memphis State; Mississippi State over Tampa; Virginia over Navy.

Midwest—Indiana over Arizona; Ohio State over Illinois; Purdue over Iowa; Notre Dame over Michigan State; Nebraska over Oklahoma State; Missouri over Kansas State; Kansas over Iowa State; Miami, Ohio over Bowling Green; Cincinnati over Tulsa.

Southwest — Arkansas over North Texas State; Texas A&M over Baylor; Texas over Rice; Texas Tech over Southern Methodist.

Far West — California over Syracuse; Washington over Idaho; Wyoming over New Mexico; Oregon over Utah; Oregon State over Washington State; Utah State over West Texas State; Brigham Young over Texas-El Paso; Pacific over Colorado State.

Other games involving Ohio teams:

Ohio University over Dayton; Toledo over Kent State.

W. Beaver Tops Freedom Harriers

The Western Beaver cross-country team concluded its dual meet season with a 12-2 mark by whipping Freedom 19-37 at Western Tuesday.

The Golden Beavers were paced, as usual, by Dave Grimm, who covered the 2.5 mile course in 14:40. Tom Smith, Keith McGaffick, Mike Hoyt, Joe Anderson and Joe Camaioni also finished in the Top 10 for Western.

Summary: 1. Grimm (W), 2. Smith (W), 3. McGaffick (W), 4. Hoyt (W), 5. Messing (F), 6. Higginbotham (F), 7. Martin (F), 8. Waugh (F), 9. Anderson (W), 10. Camaioni (W).

Cincinnati Surprises LA Lakers

By The Associated Press

Despite the presence of Wilt Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Lakers have gotten off to a slow start, and the same can be said of Hal Greer's National Basketball Association coaching career at Philadelphia without the Big Dipper.

Greer, an All-Star guard for Philadelphia, was pressed into duty on the bench Tuesday night when he fouled out and Coach Jack Ramsey was kicked out with 6½ minutes remaining and the New York Knicks leading the 76ers 105-91.

Although a furious flurry pulled Philadelphia even, the Knicks pulled out a 117-114 victory at Madison Square Garden on Cazzie Russell's final minutes of clutch shooting.

In Cincinnati, the Lakers dissipated a 15-point third quarter lead and lost to the Royals 107-103 for their second defeat in three games.

In the only other contest, San Francisco dropped Phoenix 109-101 in San Francisco.

No games were scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

Greer, who averaged 30.5 points a game as Philadelphia won its first two contests without Wilt, managed only 14 points before making his pro coaching debut. The final 6½ minutes left him certain he never wants to turn to coaching.

The 76ers ran off 13 consecutive points, seven in a row by Billy Cunningham, and finally pulled even at 110. But Russell, who finished with 27 points, hit three jumpers to break that tie and deadlocks at 112 and 114 for the Knicks' first victory in three starts.

Chamberlain managed only 19 points as the Lakers pulled ahead in the third quarter behind Elgin Baylor, who finished with 34.

But Adrian Smith and Jerry Lucas, with nine points each in the final period, brought the Royals back. They never trailed after Connie Dierking's hook for a 92-91 lead.

Oscar Robertson had 28 for the Royals.

Meyer Gets Gold

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The showdown for the Olympic basketball title comes Friday, matching the United States' rag-tag collection and—steady now—Yugoslavia.

Giant-killer Yugoslavia edged out mighty Russia 63-62, and the U.S. team, by-passed by most of her best collegians and almost dumped by little Puerto Rico, easily turned back a strong Brazilian team 75-63 in the semifinals Tuesday night.

Debbie Meyer, Sacramento, Calif., who already had one gold medal, led the American sweep of the women's 200-meter freestyle in 2:12.5, followed by Jane Barkman, Wayne, Pa., 2:11, an Jan Henne, Oakland, Calif., 2:11.2 It was the fifth America sweep in swimming.

Cincinnati Surprises LA Lakers

By The Associated Press

Despite the presence of Wilt Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Lakers have gotten off to a slow start, and the same can be said of Hal Greer's National Basketball Association coaching career at Philadelphia without the Big Dipper.

Greer, an All-Star guard for Philadelphia, was pressed into duty on the bench Tuesday night when he fouled out and Coach Jack Ramsey was kicked out with 6½ minutes remaining and the New York Knicks leading the 76ers 105-91.

Although a furious flurry pulled Philadelphia even, the Knicks pulled out a 117-114 victory at Madison Square Garden on Cazzie Russell's final minutes of clutch shooting.

In Cincinnati, the Lakers dissipated a 15-point third quarter lead and lost to the Royals 107-103 for their second defeat in three games.

In the only other contest, San Francisco dropped Phoenix 109-101 in San Francisco.

No games were scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

Greer, who averaged 30.5 points a game as Philadelphia won its first two contests without Wilt, managed only 14 points before making his pro coaching debut. The final 6½ minutes left him certain he never wants to turn to coaching.

The 76ers ran off 13 consecutive points, seven in a row by Billy Cunningham, and finally pulled even at 110. But Russell, who finished with 27 points, hit three jumpers to break that tie and deadlocks at 112 and 114 for the Knicks' first victory in three starts.

Chamberlain managed only 19 points as the Lakers pulled ahead in the third quarter behind Elgin Baylor, who finished with 34.

But Adrian Smith and Jerry Lucas, with nine points each in the final period, brought the Royals back. They never trailed after Connie Dierking's hook for a 92-91 lead.

Oscar Robertson had 28 for the Royals.

Bowling Green Still Contender In MAC

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Now that Ohio University has whipped Miami in their big Mid-American Conference showdown, you'd think the league football race is cut and dried.

Forget it, Charlie.

Someone forgot to tell Bowling Green it was supposed to finish in fourth place.

The Falcons, with first-year Coach Don Nehlen continuing his magical ways, certainly are the surprise team in the Mac.

Coach Bill Hess' powerful Bobcats figured to take the title from the very beginning. And Ohio has been very impressive on its drive to the championship and a trip to the Tangerine Bowl.

But Bowling Green still is an obstacle, and the only serious one really remaining. The Bobcats (4-0) have league games left against Western Michigan and Bowling Green.

If Miami whips BG, then Ohio could lose to the Falcons Nov. 9 and still take the marbles. That's because BG has a 2-0-1 record and that tie with Toledo could be costly.

If Ohio splits its two final games, losing to the Falcons, it would finish 5-1. If BG loses to Miami but beats Ohio and Marshall, it would finish 4-1-1.

So for the time being, Nehlen, who has seen his Falcons in most games before, has another critical one Saturday. And the Falcons haven't lost at Oxford since 1958.

Miami will be bidding to bounce back from that 24-7 loss to Ohio that knocked the Skins out of the race. But can Coach Bo Schembechler get his team up? It seems natural enough that Miami will have a letdown after losing its biggest game of the season.

Nehlen is hoping that Miami will be "down" but he can't count on it. He'd rather see his two offensive stars, quarterback P.J. Nyitray and end Eddie Jones, have their best performances.

On total defense, Miami is first and BG second in the loop while Miami is second and the Falcons fourth in total offense. But Nyitray is second in league passing and Jones tops loop receivers with 18 catches for 281 yards.

Elsewhere, Toledo (2-1 - 1), and still nursing some hope for a title, plays at Kent State (0-4) and Western Michigan (1-3) visit improving Marshall (0-3).

Hess and Co. shoot for their sixth straight success of the season in a home encounter against once-beaten Dayton.

The picks:

Miami 14, Bowling Green 0; Toledo 28, Kent 7; Marshall 14, Western Michigan 7; and Ohio 3 Dayton 10.

Oakland Tops N. Stars, Takes Lead

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Oakland Seals, who won only 15 National Hockey League games in 1967-68, took over first place in the West Division Tuesday night.

The Seals edged the Minnesota North Stars 3-2 on George Swarbrick's rebound with 4:01 remaining.

It was the second consecutive victory for the Seals. Oakland, now 2-3-1, leads Minnesota and St. Louis in the West by one point.

The game was the only NHL contest scheduled Tuesday night.

After the first three games, Gary Smith replaced Charlie Hodge in the Oakland nets and the 6-feet-4 netminder has been superb.

General Manager-Coach Wren Blair was forced to relieve regular Cesare Maniago after the first period, saying Maniago had a "case of bad nerves." Gary Bauman replaced Maniago.

The roving Minnesota netminder had been caught out of position in the corner where he had gone to recover a stray pass. Oakland picked up the puck and Gary Jarrett scored into an open net.

Blair said that "I didn't take Maniago out of the net. Cesare said his nerves are bothering him.

"He told our trainer Stan Waylett about it, took his equipment off, dressed and walked out of the dressing room. I didn't talk to him at all."

Lady Potter Banquet Set For Nov. 12

The annual football banquet sponsored by the Lady Potter Boosters Club will be held Nov. 12 at the East Liverpool Country Club, it was decided at the club's meeting Monday night at the gas company office.

Reservations for the banquet must be in by Nov. 6.

It was reported that the club had made $203 from a rummage sale and $50 from a bake sale.

Monday night's business meeting followed a cooking demonstration. The next meeting will be Nov. 6 at the home of Mary Alice Fouse at 830 Orchard Grove Ave.

ICE CHAMBERS

Musuraca Honored As Back Of Week

Jim Musuraca, playing for the first time since the third game of the season, was named East Liverpool offensive back of the week for his performance in the 28-0 win over Martins Ferry.

Musuraca scored twice, was the leading rusher and blocked well.

John Johnson was named offensive lineman of the week for his pass catching and blocking.

Stanley Ice once again was named defensive lineman of the week and Tom Chambers was again named defensive back of the week.

Two Ohio U. Players Get MAC Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The two players who led Ohio University to a 24-7 victory over Miami last Saturday are the Mid-American Conference back and lineman of the Week.

Quarterback Cleve Bryant and defensive tackle Greg McKenzie walked off with the honors.

Bryant, a 5-foot-11, 170-pound junior from Canton, passed for 179 yards and two touchdowns and rushed for an additional 90 yards. His scoring passes were for 19 and 73 yards.

McKenzie, a 6-0, 210-pound senior from Cincinnati, was in on 22 tackles while leading an aroused Ohio defense that limited Miami to 57 yards rushing.

He also threw Miami quarterback Kent Thompson for losses five times for a total of 31 yards.

Other backs nominated included P. J. Nyitray of Bowling Green; Jerry Clemens of Kent State; Lew Bowman of Marshall; Thompson of Miami; Dick Seymour of Toledo and Ken Woodside of Western Michigan.

Linemen nominated were Phil Villapiano of Bowling Green; Jim Corrigall of Kent; Larry Carter of Marshall; Gary Arthur of Miami; Mel Tucker of Toledo and Don Lewis of Western.

Southern 8th Grade Wins 1st Grid Game

The Southern Local eighth grade football team won its first after three losses yesterday, downing Leetonia 44-12 at Leetonia.

Jim Smith scored five touchdowns for the winners, and John Brown got the other on a kickoff return. Ron Paynter got two extra points and Jack Orr one.

Denies 'Dirty Football'

Northwestern's Agase Upset By Hayes' Charge

CHICAGO (AP) — If Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State is playing the protective role of mother hen with quarterback Rex Kern, Northwestern Coach Alex Agase doesn't plan to be the pigeon.

Hayes issued a statement that "There are too many coaches who think the best way to stop the option is to put the quarterback out of business" following a 45-21 victory over Northwestern.

"The officials should take charge," said Hayes. "A player who deliberately hits a passer after he has released the ball should be kicked out of the game."

Hayes' remarks incensed Agase who telephoned the coach of the second ranked Buckeyes Tuesday morning and then issued an angry statement himself absolving Northwestern's football team of "dirty football" charges.

Kern has been flattened in three of Ohio State's four games by onrushing linemen. The 180-pound sophomore has had a history prone and last June underwent a spinal disc operation.

Asked if Hayes was possibly trying to bring the attention of game officials to Kern and thereby make opposing linemen worry that he is being closely watched, Agase said he didn't know what Hayes was up to, if anything, but it wasn't going to be at the expense of his players.

"This type of implusive action by Hayes is not unusual," said Agase. "It is unjustified and unfair to a fine group of young men."

Agase said when he phoned Hayes to find out what the Ohio State coach meant by his statement, "He indicated to me that there was one, I repeat one, isolated case where he thought one of our players hit his quarterback after the ball was passed."

Agase said he noted where Hayes recomended a guilty player should be suspended and the coach be suspended for a week.

"By his own recomendation," said Aagase "maybe he (Hayes) should take the week off. One of the piling-on penalties, which incidentally was spearing, occured against our quarterback and (Dave) Shelbourne has a scar on his chin this morning as a direct result of this spearing."

Coaches Bump Elliott of Michigan, John Coatta of Wisconsin and Murray Warmath of Minnesota were polled on their opinion if there was too much roughing of quarterbacks in the Big Ten and all answered negatively.

However, Warmath added, "But I will say that when Woody takes a stand and makes an observation, he usually is right."

Bowling Green Still Contender In MAC

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Now that Ohio University has whipped Miami in their big Mid-American Conference showdown, you'd think the league football race is cut and dried.

Forget it, Charlie.

Someone forgot to tell Bowling Green it was supposed to finish in fourth place.

The Falcons, with first-year Coach Don Nehlen continuing his magical ways, certainly are the surprise team in the Mac.

Coach Bill Hess' powerful Bobcats figured to take the title from the very beginning. And Ohio has been very impressive on its drive to the championship and a trip to the Tangerine Bowl.

But Bowling Green still is an obstacle, and the only serious one really remaining. The Bobcats (4-0) have league games left against Western Michigan and Bowling Green.

If Miami whips BG, then Ohio could lose to the Falcons Nov. 9 and still take the marbles. That's because BG has a 2-0-1 record and that tie with Toledo could be costly.

If Ohio splits its two final games, losing to the Falcons, it would finish 5-1. If BG loses to Miami but beats Ohio and Marshall, it would finish 4-1-1.

So for the time being, Nehlen, who has seen his Falcons in most games before, has another critical one Saturday. And the Falcons haven't lost at Oxford since 1958.

Miami will be bidding to bounce back from that 24-7 loss to Ohio that knocked the Skins out of the race. But can Coach Bo Schembechler get his team up? It seems natural enough that Miami will have a letdown after losing its biggest game of the season.

Nehlen is hoping that Miami will be "down" but he can't count on it. He'd rather see his two offensive stars, quarterback P.J. Nyitray and end Eddie Jones, have their best performances.

On total defense, Miami is first and BG second in the loop while Miami is second and the Falcons fourth in total offense. But Nyitray is second in league passing and Jones tops loop receivers with 18 catches for 281 yards.

Elsewhere, Toledo (2-1 - 1), and still nursing some hope for a title, plays at Kent State (0-4) and Western Michigan (1-3) visit improving Marshall (0-3).

Hess and Co. shoot for their sixth straight success of the season in a home encounter against once-beaten Dayton.

The picks:

Miami 14, Bowling Green 0; Toledo 28, Kent 7; Marshall 14, Western Michigan 7; and Ohio 3 Dayton 10.

Oakland Tops N. Stars, Takes Lead

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Oakland Seals, who won only 15 National Hockey League games in 1967-68, took over first place in the West Division Tuesday night.

The Seals edged the Minnesota North Stars 3-2 on George Swarbrick's rebound with 4:01 remaining.

It was the second consecutive victory for the Seals. Oakland, now 2-3-1, leads Minnesota and St. Louis in the West by one point.

The game was the only NHL contest scheduled Tuesday night.

After the first three games, Gary Smith replaced Charlie Hodge in the Oakland nets and the 6-feet-4 netminder has been superb.

General Manager-Coach Wren Blair was forced to relieve regular Cesare Maniago after the first period, saying Maniago had a "case of bad nerves." Gary Bauman replaced Maniago.

The roving Minnesota netminder had been caught out of position in the corner where he had gone to recover a stray pass. Oakland picked up the puck and Gary Jarrett scored into an open net.

Blair said that "I didn't take Maniago out of the net. Cesare said his nerves are bothering him.

"He told our trainer Stan Waylett about it, took his equipment off, dressed and walked out of the dressing room. I didn't talk to him at all."

Lady Potter Banquet Set For Nov. 12

The annual football banquet sponsored by the Lady Potter Boosters Club will be held Nov. 12 at the East Liverpool Country Club, it was decided at the club's meeting Monday night at the gas company office.

Reservations for the banquet must be in by Nov. 6.

It was reported that the club had made $203 from a rummage sale and $50 from a bake sale.

Monday night's business meeting followed a cooking demonstration. The next meeting will be Nov. 6 at the home of Mary Alice Fouse at 830 Orchard Grove Ave.

MUSURACA JOHNSON

ICE CHAMBERS

Musuraca Honored As Back Of Week

Jim Musuraca, playing for the first time since the third game of the season, was named East Liverpool offensive back of the week for his performance in the 28-0 win over Martins Ferry.

Musuraca scored twice, was the leading rusher and blocked well.

John Johnson was named offensive lineman of the week for his pass catching and blocking.

Stanley Ice once again was named defensive lineman of the week and Tom Chambers was again named defensive back of the week.

Two Ohio U. Players Get MAC Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The two players who led Ohio University to a 24-7 victory over Miami last Saturday are the Mid-American Conference back and lineman of the Week.

Quarterback Cleve Bryant and defensive tackle Greg McKenzie walked off with the honors.

Bryant, a 5-foot-11, 170-pound junior from Canton, passed for 179 yards and two touchdowns and rushed for an additional 90 yards. His scoring passes were for 19 and 73 yards.

McKenzie, a 6-0, 210-pound senior from Cincinnati, was in on 22 tackles while leading an aroused Ohio defense that limited Miami to 57 yards rushing.

He also threw Miami quarterback Kent Thompson for losses five times for a total of 31 yards.

Other backs nominated included P. J. Nyitray of Bowling Green; Jerry Clemens of Kent State; Lew Bowman of Marshall; Thompson of Miami; Dick Seymour of Toledo and Ken Woodside of Western Michigan.

Linemen nominated were Phil Villapiano of Bowling Green; Jim Corrigall of Kent; Larry Carter of Marshall; Gary Arthur of Miami; Mel Tucker of Toledo and Don Lewis of Western.

Southern 8th Grade Wins 1st Grid Game

The Southern Local eighth grade football team won its first after three losses yesterday, downing Leetonia 44-12 at Leetonia.

Jim Smith scored five touchdowns for the winners, and John Brown got the other on a kickoff return. Ron Paynter got two extra points and Jack Orr one.

Denies 'Dirty Football'

Northwestern's Agase Upset By Hayes' Charge

CHICAGO (AP) — If Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State is playing the protective role of mother hen with quarterback Rex Kern, Northwestern Coach Alex Agase doesn't plan to be the pigeon.

Hayes issued a statement that "There are too many coaches who think the best way to stop the option is to put the quarterback out of business" following a 45-21 victory over Northwestern.

"The officials should take charge," said Hayes. "A player who deliberately hits a passer after he has released the ball should be kicked out of the game."

Hayes' remarks incensed Agase who telephoned the coach of the second ranked Buckeyes Tuesday morning and then issued an angry statement himself absolving Northwestern's football team of "dirty football" charges.

Kern has been flattened in three of Ohio State's four games by onrushing linemen. The 180-pound sophomore has had a history prone and last June underwent a spinal disc operation.

Asked if Hayes was possibly trying to bring the attention of game officials to Kern and thereby make opposing linemen worry that he is being closely watched, Agase said he didn't know what Hayes was up to, if anything, but it wasn't going to be at the expense of his players.

"This type of implusive action by Hayes is not unusual," said Agase. "It is unjustified and unfair to a fine group of young men."

Agase said when he phoned Hayes to find out what the Ohio State coach meant by his statement, "He indicated to me that there was one, I repeat one, isolated case where he thought one of our players hit his quarterback after the ball was passed."

Agase said he noted where Hayes recomended a guilty player should be suspended and the coach be suspended for a week.

"By his own recomendation," said Aagase "maybe he (Hayes) should take the week off. One of the piling-on penalties, which incidentally was spearing, occured against our quarterback and (Dave) Shelbourne has a scar on his chin this morning as a direct result of this spearing."

Coaches Bump Elliott of Michigan, John Coatta of Wisconsin and Murray Warmath of Minnesota were polled on their opinion if there was too much roughing of quarterbacks in the Big Ten and all answered negatively.

However, Warmath added, "But I will say that when Woody takes a stand and makes an observation, he usually is right."

Rotary Speaker Cites Enthusiasm

"Enthusiasm lifts one's life out of the ordinary — and enthusiasm for Rotary will lift it out of the ordinary," Dr. O. K. Brown, district Rotary Governor told the East Liverpool Rotary Club at the Travelers Hotel Tuesday.

He compared Rotary to gourds — "they come in all sizes, shapes, and colors;" and to apples — "they have the ability to reproduce ant contribute to American heritage."

"Apples do not grow universally," he said, "only in certain areas," and this he likened to community service by Rotary members. He then suggested Rotarians are like the ash tree, "strong and sturdy and useful for many things."

"Some Rotarians serve in oriented service avenues from the heart," Dr. Brown said, "while others serve only from the lapel and the seat of the pants."

Brown said communism is not our threat today — "degeneration of our moral and ethical values is our threat."

CB Coffee Breaks Set As Planned, Aide Says

A series of weekly coffee breaks for district Citizens Band radio operators will be started Wednesday night at 7 at the Blue Willows Restaurant of Route 30.

Mrs. Ann Watters of Dresden Ave., official of one of the area CB clubs, said the purpose is for an informal get-together. A report published in The Review Tuesday that the sessions will not be held was falsely provided the newspaper, she said.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Writer Faulted For Lost Opportunity

Stirling Silliphant, one of Hollywood's better writers, admits now that he may have been wrong to back out of a $25,000 deal he had with "CBS Playouse" to write a drama with an anti-Vietnamese war theme.

Hal Humphrey

His story was to b about a conscientious objector, a young man who wanted no part of war, especially the one in Vietnam. But Silliphant decided that such a play on TV would be criticized from a political rather than a literary point of view.

-:-

"I DIDN'T WANT to come back to TV after three years and be judged by critics polarized in their opinions by being for or against the war," explained Silliphant at the time of his decision.

Now, after some more thought, he confesses to censoring himself in the matter and "overreacting to this polarization."

"Six years ago I'd have fought any censoring, but maybe they've finally whipped me. After all, I was pushed out of TV. From 1964 to 1967 I was involved in TV development deals at both Paramount and MGM, and not one of them got on the air.

"Ironically, during that time, my reputation grew. I guess the secret of success in this town is to not make anything except deals," adds Silliphant, whose career in TV started with his writing most of the Naked City and Route 66 shows.

ALTHOUGH he's doing very well in movies now (Silliphant won an Oscar for his adaptation of "Heat of the Night"), it seems a shame when a writer of his stature passes up an opportunity to write something for TV which has a bearing on what's going on in the world. TV doesn't often open up such avenues for a writer.

And if every writer worried as Silliphant says he did about his work being judged on controversial stands rather than as a piece of literature, hardly anything worthwhile ever would be on the TV screen.

Silliphant insists it was not fear of the Vietnam "hawks" that made him pull back from his TV play about a conscientious objector, only that he didn't want to do something which would be criticized politically by those in favor of the war.

UNFORTUNATELY, the realization that he may have been wrong to scuttle his own play has not changed his mind. He won't write it now, regardless, he says.

"I'm a Capricorn and just never go back on a decision, once I've made it. No, there's not a chance of my changing my mind," he says.

Capricorn or not, I believe Silliphant is making a mistake. One of the alibis the networks have for not coming up with more and better drama is that they can't find the writers. When Silliphant backs out of his "CBS Playhouse" deal, he only strengthens this alibi.

MIKE DANN, program head of CBS, has said the reason only four or five "CBS Playhouse" productions are scheduled this season is the lack of good original plays. Writers complain that Dan is crawfishing, that his and the other networks are scared of good, controversial drama.

The first of this season's "CBS Playhouse" productions was J. P. Miller's "The People Next Door," a well-done and uncompromising drama about an upper-middle-class family jolted from their apathy by the discovery their 16-year-old daughter is taking drugs.

Despite its being on the air against a Don Knotts comedy movie ("The Reluctant Astronaut"), the "CBS Playhouse" registered a good rating and the network received thousands of complimentary phone calls when it recently was shown.

SILLIPHANT might argue, of course, that nearly evervose is against using drugs, so that the writer ran no risk of alienating the majority of his audience. Still, if "CBS Playhouse" was ready to put on an anti-Vietnamese war play written by Silliphant, his risk was no greater than the network's.

When the writers fold up first, it's difficult to fault the network bosses. That's something Silliphant overlooked when he made his decision.

Driver Penalized On 3 Charges In Chase, Collision

A New Middletown woman charged with driving while intoxicated, speeding, and improper backing as the result of an accident Oct. 13 changed her not guilty plea to guilty Tuesday in Municipal Court.

Virginia N. Holsinger of New Middletown was cited by Patrolman David Huffman after an 80-mile-an-hour chase in a 35-mile zone. When she finally stopped her vehicle, she backed into the cruiser, he reported.

Judge Samuel Chertoff changed the driving while intoxicated charge to having physical control of an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. On this charge Mrs. Holsinger was fined $150 and costs.

Judge Chertoff fined her $25 and costs for speeding and suspended her drivers license for 30 days. He fined her $10 and costs on the improper backing charge.

Charles E. White of 205 Beechwood St. was fined $15 and costs for driving 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. White was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon on Route 7 Friday at 1:55 a. m.

HAVE YOU A QUESTION?

QUESTION:

"Why do funeral directors charge the full price when the religious service is conducted in the church, instead of using the mortuary?"

ANSWER:

Most funeral directors are very co-operative arranging for a religious service anywhere the family chooses. However, a church service actually requires greater detail in planning, extra employees and more specialized equipment.

Hal Humphrey

His story was to b about a conscientious objector, a young man who wanted no part of war, especially the one in Vietnam. But Silliphant decided that such a play on TV would be criticized from a political rather than a literary point of view.

-:-

"I DIDN'T WANT to come back to TV after three years and be judged by critics polarized in their opinions by being for or against the war," explained Silliphant at the time of his decision.

Now, after some more thought, he confesses to censoring himself in the matter and "overreacting to this polarization."

"Six years ago I'd have fought any censoring, but maybe they've finally whipped me. After all, I was pushed out of TV. From 1964 to 1967 I was involved in TV development deals at both Paramount and MGM, and not one of them got on the air.

"Ironically, during that time, my reputation grew. I guess the secret of success in this town is to not make anything except deals," adds Silliphant, whose career in TV started with his writing most of the Naked City and Route 66 shows.

ALTHOUGH he's doing very well in movies now (Silliphant won an Oscar for his adaptation of "Heat of the Night"), it seems a shame when a writer of his stature passes up an opportunity to write something for TV which has a bearing on what's going on in the world. TV doesn't often open up such avenues for a writer.

And if every writer worried as Silliphant says he did about his work being judged on controversial stands rather than as a piece of literature, hardly anything worthwhile ever would be on the TV screen.

Silliphant insists it was not fear of the Vietnam "hawks" that made him pull back from his TV play about a conscientious objector, only that he didn't want to do something which would be criticized politically by those in favor of the war.

UNFORTUNATELY, the realization that he may have been wrong to scuttle his own play has not changed his mind. He won't write it now, regardless, he says.

"I'm a Capricorn and just never go back on a decision, once I've made it. No, there's not a chance of my changing my mind," he says.

Capricorn or not, I believe Silliphant is making a mistake. One of the alibis the networks have for not coming up with more and better drama is that they can't find the writers. When Silliphant backs out of his "CBS Playhouse" deal, he only strengthens this alibi.

MIKE DANN, program head of CBS, has said the reason only four or five "CBS Playhouse" productions are scheduled this season is the lack of good original plays. Writers complain that Dan is crawfishing, that his and the other networks are scared of good, controversial drama.

The first of this season's "CBS Playhouse" productions was J. P. Miller's "The People Next Door," a well-done and uncompromising drama about an upper-middle-class family jolted from their apathy by the discovery their 16-year-old daughter is taking drugs.

Despite its being on the air against a Don Knotts comedy movie ("The Reluctant Astronaut"), the "CBS Playhouse" registered a good rating and the network received thousands of complimentary phone calls when it recently was shown.

SILLIPHANT might argue, of course, that nearly everyose is against using drugs, so that the writer ran no risk of alienating the majority of his audience. Still, if "CBS Playhouse" was ready to put on an anti-Vietnamese war play written by Silliphant, his risk was no greater than the network's.

When the writers fold up first, it's difficult to fault the network bosses. That's something Silliphant overlooked when he made his decision.

HAVE YOU A QUESTION?

QUESTION:

"Why do funeral directors charge the full price when the religious service is conducted in the church, instead of using the mortuary?"

ANSWER:

Most funeral directors are very co-operative arranging for a religious service anywhere the family chooses. However, a church service actually requires greater detail in planning, extra employees and more specialized equipment.

Coordinated Drive Planned To Set Up 'Pottery Museum'

Coordinated efforts for establishing a pottery museum in East Liverpool were discussed by a group of business, industry, labor and civic leaders Tuesday night at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office.

Don Eckert, city planning coordinator, served as chairman for the meeting, at which the museum project and other programs were aired.

Discussion centered on a planned $100,000 which has been allotted for a city museum under the provisions of State Issue No. 1 on which Ohio voters will ballot Nov. 5.

Some $250,000 is allocated for a pottery museum in the Crooksville - Roseville area, and those at last night's meeting indicated efforts should be made to revise the recommended allotment for East Liverpool.

Eckert is scheduled to visit Columbus later this week, and said he would confer with various officials about the recommendations.

He is expected to report at another meeting of the group next Tuesday night at 8 at the office.

Also aired was a proposal for a pottery center for display and sale of products of area firms.

William H. Vodrey Jr., Ohio Historical Society director, is scheduled to discuss the pottery museum plan at the next meeting. At present the city Post Office building at Broadway is being considered as a site for the museum.

Some 60 nonprofessional employes went on strike early Tuesday in a dispute over union recognition and a reduction of daily working hours in the laundry section.

Brian Heads Dimes Drive

Richard G. Brian of 324 Vine St. has been named again to head the Columbiana County March of Dimes campaign in January.

Details of the 1969 drive were discussed at a weekend meeting of 250 campaign leaders in Cincinnati. Brian, who has been county chairman for 10 years, represented the local organization.

Brian commented that the 1968 drive was the most successful in history, raising $12,879.

The organization was formed about 30 years ago as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. With the virtual eradication of polio, it switched its name to National Foundation and concentrated its efforts on elimination of birth defects.

Brian pointed out that more than 250,000 American children are afflicted with birth defects each year.

The Columbiana County organization has taken eight new birth defects cases under its care during 1968, Brian said.

He said further details of the January campaign will be announced in a few weeks.

Gas Company Slates Slight Drop In Rates

Rates in East Liverpool and 21 other area communities served by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. will be reduced 67 one-hundredths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet beginning Friday, the firm said Tuesday.

The reduction is the result of a decrease in the cost of gas from the firm's supplier and is provided for under the fuel cost clause in the communities' contracts with the gas company.

It will amount to a reduction of about $1.20 per year in the gas bill of the average residential consumer who heats with gas, gas officials said.

Devotions were led by the Rev. Delmar Logston of the Wellsville Free Methodist Church. The attendance banner was won by Mrs. Doris N. Nelson's first grade.

Refreshments were served by the social committee. A candy sale was conducted by the first and second grade mothers. The next meeting will be held Nov. 18.

Gas Company Slates Slight Drop In Rates

Rates in East Liverpool and 21 other area communities served by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. will be reduced 67 one-hundredths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet beginning Friday, the firm said Tuesday.

The reduction is the result of a decrease in the cost of gas from the firm's supplier and is provided for under the fuel cost clause in the communities' contracts with the gas company.

It will amount to a reduction of about $1.20 per year in the gas bill of the average residential consumer who heats with gas, gas officials said.

Moore Assails Democratic Foe During Address

By The Associated Press

Arch A. Moore Jr. Tuesday unleashed one of his strongest attacks to date on Democratic gubernatorial candidate James M. Sprouse.

Speaking to some 350 persons at a $1-a-plate GOP rally in Point Pleasant, Moore said Sprouse was "born and bred at the breast of the statehouse machine" and could not live up to his campaign slogan, "Progress, Not Politics."

The GOP gubernatorial nominee also jabbed at Sprouse's claim to have eliminated the political "flower fund," saying if this is true, he "plucked every flower" before abolishing it.

The past eight years of Democratic state government, Moore charged, have been devoted to the "cause of individuals," instead of the cause of the people.

The 1st District congressman also charged that letters containing veiled threats to support the administration have been sent to state employes.

A Generous Gift

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Miss Rose Enoch, a registered nurse, walked into the offices of Penrose Hospital and placed a penny, a dime, a $10 bill and three pieces of paper on a desk. She said the papers were stock certificates worth $25,000 and she wished to donate the stock and cash for the hospital's new cancer research building.

Sale Of Christmas Seals Will Be Launched Nov. 12

LISBON — Leo C. Lawrence, East Liverpool insurance man, wrote the appeal which the Columbiana County Public Health League will use in the 62nd annual Christmas Seal campaign beginning Nov. 12.

Lawrence tells that his mother died of tuberculosis on Mothers' Day 30 years ago at the age of 53.

"I vowed to fight TB to the finish with all the energy I could muster," he added.

He observed that modern medical science and research aided by Christmas Seal funds have gone a long way toward eradicating TB—"but not all the way."

Lawrence said the X-ray unit is "constantly discovering TB, lung cancer, emphysema, heart conditions and other breath-taking diseases." A past president of the league, Lawrence is campaign chairman this year.

The 1968 Christmas Seal was designed by William Eisele, a Columbus artist, who had two honorable mention awards previously in national judging. He is creative art director for Wheeler - Kight and Gainey Advertising Agency in Columbus.

Eisele used a quail, a member of the partridge family, as the central figure for his "partridge in a pear tree" design. A brown and white partridge, a golden pear and the green leaves of a pear branch are shown in a four - unit design on blue and yellow background.

Mrs. Arthur Spatholt of Leetonia, Public Health League president, said the following Township Christmas Seal chairmen appointed by the board of directors "are leaders in their communities and are deeply concerned with what we are trying to accomplish — the elimination of tuberculosis and the control of other respiratory diseases":

Fairfield — Willard E. Ferrall, Union Banking Co., Columbiana.

Lisbon area — C. R. McKenzie, Farmers National Bank, Lisbon.

Liverpool and St. Clair — Richard R. Emmerling, First National Bank, East Liverpool.

Middleton — Mrs. Helen McCall, Rogers.

Perry — D. L. Vincent, Farmers National Bank, Salem.

Salem Township — DeErla Smith, Citizens Savings Bank, Leetonia.

Unity — Lester E. Hart, First National Bank, East Palestine.

Washington — Thomas D. Rawlings, Citizens Banking Co., Salineville.

Western area — Richard Speidel, Farmers National Bank, Hanoverton.

Yellow Creek — Fred A. Huston, Central Federal Savings & Loan Association, Wellsville.

Music was introduced into Shakespeare's plays in songs, and as incidental music.

Sale Of Christmas Seals Will Be Launched Nov. 12

LISBON — Leo C. Lawrence, East Liverpool insurance man, wrote the appeal which the Columbiana County Public Health League will use in the 62nd annual Christmas Seal campaign beginning Nov. 12.

Lawrence tells that his mother died of tuberculosis on Mothers' Day 30 years ago at the age of 53.

"I vowed to fight TB to the finish with all the energy I could muster," he added.

He observed that modern medical science and research aided by Christmas Seal funds have gone a long way toward eradicating TB—"but not all the way."

Lawrence said the X-ray unit is "constantly discovering TB, lung cancer, emphysema, heart conditions and other breath-taking diseases." A past president of the league, Lawrence is campaign chairman this year.

The 1968 Christmas Seal was designed by William Eisele, a Columbus artist, who had two honorable mention awards previously in national judging. He is creative art director for Wheeler - Kight and Gainey Advertising Agency in Columbus.

Salem Township — DeErla Smith, Citizens Savings Bank, Leetonia.

Unity — Lester E. Hart, First National Bank, East Palestine.

ANN LANDERS

A No-Problem Youngster

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is that my mother understands me and I have a father who cares.

We live in a modest but comfortable home. My wardrobe is adequate and I have just about everything I want. There are rules and regulations around here and I'm expected to obey them. There are also some great privileges.

My mother doesn't work and my father doesn't drink. When I do something wrong I get punished. When I do something good I get praised.

I'm a 12-year-old boy and I ask you — with a problem like that, who needs a solution — JUST PLAIN HAPPY.

-:-

Dear J. P. Happy: Thanks for the day-brightener. Letters like yours make my work easier.

B. O., Inc.

Dear Ann: My mother always told me, "You never know a man until you live with him." How right she was!

Hank is 24. I'm 23. We've been married two years. I don't know how to say this but I'll do my best. It's a gamey subject.

Hank can go for two months without a shower. He never washes his hair because "water will make it fall out." I've bought him three different kinds of deodorants but he never uses them. He never brushes his teeth.

I've told him a thousand times I can't tolerate his carelessness. He gets mad at me and doesn't speak for two days. Last week I slept on the couch because I couldn't stand to be near him.

What more can I do? I told him I was writing to you and we're both awaiting your reply. — CLOTHESPIN NOSE.

-:-

Dear Nose: You can call it carelessness if you want to, Honey, but the experts call it sick, sick, sick. An adult who has the personal hygiene habits of a goat demonstrates two things: First, a total disregard for others. Second, some mighty kinky notions about himself. Your husband needs professional help. Tell the doll you're sleeping on the couch until he gets it.

Family Jaunt

Dear Ann: My husband is in Vietnam. Lloyd and I have been planning and saving money for a reunion in Hawaii next month when he gets his rest and rehabilitation leave.

Yesterday his mother told me she and her husband are planning on flying to Hawaii to join us. I nearly died.

I don't want to make any family trouble, but I've been dreaming night and day about seeing Lloyd during R&R. We've been married six years and have been apart nearly half the time.

Lloyd's mother reads your column religiously. Can you say something to keep her and her husband home? — NO CITY, PLEASE.

DEAR NO CITY: It's not my place to discourage your in-laws — nor yours. It's up to your husband. I suggest he write to his parents and ask them to come over for three or four days. Don't forget, they miss him and love him, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Grid Dinner Plans Aired By Boosters

Further plans for the Beaver Local High School football banquet were made at a meeting of the Booster Club Tuesday night at the high school.

The coverdish event has been changed from Nov. 19 to Dec. 3 at the high school. Lou Holtz, Ohio State University grid aide, will be speaker.

Paul Jackson, wrestling coach, asked the club on behalf of football coach Dick Bryan, if the grid awards could be presented at a special assembly instead of at the banquet. The club agreed to have the awards announced at the dinner and to have the presentations made at a later assembly.

Plans were made for serving a buffet luncheon Nov. 9 at an educational seminar at the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters headquarters. A request to serve a holiday dinner Dec. 7 at the IBOP was taken under study.

Jackson announced season wrestling tickets now are on sale through members at a cost of $4 for five match tickets for adults and $1.75 for students. Mrs. Ruth Diddle, teacher at the Columbiana County Retarded Children's School, spoke of the proposed levy for the school.

Supt. Roy Cashdollar spoke on the school district's proposed two levy renewal. Roy Allen of Columbiana, candidate for state representative, also spoke.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12.

Sprouse Presses To Get Democrat Voters To Polls

By The Associated Press

Saying signs of a Democratic victory are in the air, James M. Sprouse Tuesday called for a concentrated effort to get Democratic voters to the polls in November.

Sprouse, the party's gubernatorial nominee, told a Summersville audience the campaign momentum is shifting to the Democrats.

The best indication of the change that I've had is that all the 'bandwagon jumpers' who held out so long — who didn't want to be identified with the campaign—are back," Sprouse said. "They're waving flags as in the old days."

His appeal for a get-the-voters to-the-polls effort had particular meaning in Nicholas County, which is registered heavily Democratic but where only 15 per cent of the Democrats voted in 1966.

Sprouse was bouyed by an enthusiastic reception in the county and admitted that he has a sense of "dreariness and blueness" after returning from the Democratic National Convention in August.

He promised to continue to campaign on the issues although he said, Republican candidate Arch A. Moore Jr. evidently intends "to deal, as he always has in generalities."

Fire Chief Talks To School Group

Wellsville Fire Chief Robert Lewis spoke on "Fire Prevention" when the Highlandtown and No. 16 Parent - Teacher Associations met Monday night at the former school.

The program arranged by Mrs. Charleen Sargent also included a stunt by four Boy Scouts from the sixth grade. The Rev. Jack Hampton of the Central United Methodist Church was in charge of devotions.

Mrs. Judy Mikanik, president, conducted business. Plans were made for the observance of National Education Week beginning Nov. 11. Visiting day for No. 16 school will be Nov. 12 and for Highlandtown school Nov. 14.

The budget for the coming year was adopted. The sixth grades taught by Mrs. Edith Harper, Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry and Dennis Miller won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served 100 by sixth grade homeroom mothers.

Herring scales provide a lustrous ingredient in imitation pearls, nail polish and lipstick, the National Geographic says. Mixed with air and water, they create a smothering foam for use in airport fire extinguishers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our mother Mrs. Mayme Parsons who passed away October 22, 1966.
Now comes the autumn of the year
As we remember one so dear
Who walked along with Him.
She was always faithful & loving
Asking nothing in return,
We miss her smile, her gentle ways
Each day for her we yearn.
Sadly missed by her family.

ANN LANDERS

A No-Problem Youngster

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is that my mother understands me and I have a father who cares.

We live in a modest but comfortable home. My wardrobe is adequate and I have just about everything I want. There are rules and regulations around here and I'm expected to obey them. There are also some great privileges.

My mother doesn't work and my father doesn't drink. When I do something wrong I get punished. When I do something good I get praised.

I'm a 12-year-old boy and I ask you — with a problem like that, who needs a solution — JUST PLAIN HAPPY.

-:-

Dear J. P. Happy: Thanks for the day-brightener. Letters like yours make my work easier.

B. O., Inc.

Dear Ann: My mother always told me, "You never know a man until you live with him." How right she was!

Hank is 24. I'm 23. We've been married two years. I don't know how to say this but I'll do my best. It's a gamey subject.

Hank can go for two months without a shower. He never washes his hair because "water will make it fall out." I've bought him three different kinds of deodorants but he never uses them. He never brushes his teeth.

I've told him a thousand times I can't tolerate his carelessness. He gets mad at me and doesn't speak for two days. Last week I slept on the couch because I couldn't stand to be near him.

What more can I do? I told him I was writing to you and we're both awaiting your reply. — CLOTHESPIN NOSE.

-:-

Dear Nose: You can call it carelessness if you want to, Honey, but the experts call it sick, sick, sick. An adult who has the personal hygiene habits of a goat demonstrates two things: First, a total disregard for others. Second, some mighty kinky notions about himself. Your husband needs professional help. Tell the doll you're sleeping on the couch until he gets it.

Family Jaunt

Dear Ann: My husband is in Vietnam. Lloyd and I have been planning and saving money for a reunion in Hawaii next month when he gets his rest and rehabilitation leave.

Yesterday his mother told me she and her husband are planning on flying to Hawaii to join us. I nearly died.

I don't want to make any family trouble, but I've been dreaming night and day about seeing Lloyd during R&R. We've been married six years and have been apart nearly half the time.

Lloyd's mother reads your column religiously. Can you say something to keep her and her husband home? — NO CITY, PLEASE.

DEAR NO CITY: It's not my place to discourage your in-laws — nor yours. It's up to your husband. I suggest he write to his parents and ask them to come over for three or four days. Don't forget, they miss him and love him, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Grid Dinner Plans Aired By Boosters

Further plans for the Beaver Local High School football banquet were made at a meeting of the Booster Club Tuesday night at the high school.

The coverdish event has been changed from Nov. 19 to Dec. 3 at the high school. Lou Holtz, Ohio State University grid aide, will be speaker.

Paul Jackson, wrestling coach, asked the club on behalf of football coach Dick Bryan, if the grid awards could be presented at a special assembly instead of at the banquet. The club agreed to have the awards announced at the dinner and to have the presentations made at a later assembly.

Plans were made for serving a buffet luncheon Nov. 9 at an educational seminar at the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters headquarters. A request to serve a holiday dinner Dec. 7 at the IBOP was taken under study.

Jackson announced season wrestling tickets now are on sale through members at a cost of $4 for five match tickets for adults and $1.75 for students. Mrs. Ruth Diddle, teacher at the Columbiana County Retarded Children's School, spoke of the proposed levy for the school.

Supt. Roy Cashdollar spoke on the school district's proposed two levy renewal. Roy Allen of Columbiana, candidate for state representative, also spoke.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12.

Sprouse Presses To Get Democrat Voters To Polls

By The Associated Press

Saying signs of a Democratic victory are in the air, James M. Sprouse Tuesday called for a concentrated effort to get Democratic voters to the polls in November.

Sprouse, the party's gubernatorial nominee, told a Summersville audience the campaign momentum is shifting to the Democrats.

The best indication of the change that I've had is that all the 'bandwagon jumpers' who held out so long — who didn't want to be identified with the campaign—are back," Sprouse said. "They're waving flags as in the old days."

His appeal for a get-the-voters to-the-polls effort had particular meaning in Nicholas County, which is registered heavily Democratic but where only 15 per cent of the Democrats voted in 1966.

Sprouse was bouyed by an enthusiastic reception in the county and admitted that he has a sense of "dreariness and blueness" after returning from the Democratic National Convention in August.

He promised to continue to campaign on the issues although he said, Republican candidate Arch A. Moore Jr. evidently intends "to deal, as he always has in generalities."

Fire Chief Talks To School Group

Wellsville Fire Chief Robert Lewis spoke on "Fire Prevention" when the Highlandtown and No. 16 Parent - Teacher Associations met Monday night at the former school.

The program arranged by Mrs. Charleen Sargent also included a stunt by four Boy Scouts from the sixth grade. The Rev. Jack Hampton of the Central United Methodist Church was in charge of devotions.

Mrs. Judy Mikanik, president, conducted business. Plans were made for the observance of National Education Week beginning Nov. 11. Visiting day for No. 16 school will be Nov. 12 and for Highlandtown school Nov. 14.

The budget for the coming year was adopted. The sixth grades taught by Mrs. Edith Harper, Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry and Dennis Miller won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served 100 by sixth grade homeroom mothers.

Herring scales provide a lustrous ingredient in imitation pearls, nail polish and lipstick, the National Geographic says. Mixed with air and water, they create a smothering foam for use in airport fire extinguishers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our mother Mrs. Mayme Parsons who passed away October 22, 1966.
Now comes the autumn of the year
As we remember one so dear
Who walked along with Him.
She was always faithful & loving
Asking nothing in return.
We miss her smile, her gentle ways
Each day for her we yearn.
Sadly missed by her family.

Junior Editors Quiz on WATER IMAGES

QUESTION: How is water able to reflect objects?

* * * *

ANSWER: We have all noticed how calm, still water will present an upside down image of some object appearing above it, such as Jerry's catboat in the picture. The image would only be perfectly sharp and clear if the water was absolutely still. Generally, there is a bit of movement to the water, which makes the image wobble around. If you find a small mirror and lay it down flat, like a water surface, under some object, you will see an upside down image of the object, much the way our boat is being reflected. The reason a water surface can act like a mirror is that the molecules of the water crowd together as closely as possible on the surface, making what is called surface tension. Light rays, coming down on the water from above, will be bounced off this surface. They will shoot off at an angle, like the rubber ball above, producing an image which appears to lie on the water. Rays from the top of the object will appear at the bottom on the water; so, the whole reflection looks upside down.

(Susan King of Jacksboro, Texas, wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 23, the 297th day of 1968. There are 69 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1917, American troops saw their first action on the western front in World War I.

In 1776, George Washington's troops withdrew from the island of Manhattan during the Revolutionary War.

In 1947, a forest fire destroyed much of the resort town of Bar Harbor in Maine.

In 1956, the Hungirian revolt began with student riots in Budapest.

Ten years ago — The Russian poet, Boris Pasternak, was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature for his novel, "Dr. Zhivago."
